But Chief Sees Threat Against Free World From Dictatorships

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told Congress today America's prosperity is at "an unprecedented peak," but he said "a strongly armed imperialistic dictatorship poses a continuing threat" to the free world.

In his State of the Union Message, prepared for a joint Senate-House session, the President said that "at no time in the history of the republic have circumstances more emphatically underscored the need, in all echelons of government, for vision and wisdom and resolution."

The message, broadcast nationwide by major television and radio networks, said of the domestic picture:

"At home, we have an unprecedented peak in our economic prosperity."

But in turning to the international situation and the danger of Communist aggression, Eisenhower cautioned:

"The existence of a strongly armed imperialistic dictatorship poses a continuing threat to the free world's and thus to our own nation's security and peace."

* * *

IN DISCUSSING that situation, Eisenhower said, "America alone and isolated cannot assure even its own security."

He added the United States "must be joined by the capability and resolution of nations that have proved themselves dependable defenders of freedom."

Eisenhower told Congress that isolation from such nations would invite war.

He also emphasized that "our survival in today's world requires modern adequate, dependable military strength."

Alluding apparently to Russian brutality in Hungary, Eisenhower said that "in a common hunger for freedom, men and women and even children pit their spirit against guns and tanks."

In calling for "modern, adequate, dependable military strength" in the face of the continuing Communist threat, Eisenhower said:

"Our nation has made great strides in assuring a modern defense, so armed in new weapons, so deployed, so equipped, that today our security force is the most powerful in our peacetime history. It can punish heavily any enemy who undertakes to attack us. It is a major deterrent to war."

He said "more efficient weapons, some of amazing capabilities, are constantly being created," and that "these vital efforts we shall continue."

* * *

BUT HE CAUTIONED "We must not delude ourselves that safety necessarily increases as expenditures for military research or forces in being go up."

He said that beyond a wise and reasonable level, "money spent on arms may be money wasted on sterile metal or inflated costs, thereby weakening the very security and strength we seek."

The President said any program that "endangers our economy could defeat us," adding that national security requires far more than military power.

"Economic and moral factors play indispensable roles," he said.

"Any weakening of our national will and resolution, any diminution of the vigor and initiative of our individual citizens would strike a blow at the heart of our defenses."

Judge Aids Jail Break Thwarter

CINCINNATI (AP) — Henry J. Johnson, 32, helped thwart an escape attempt from the Hamilton County jail here Monday night and it kept him out of prison.

Johnson was one of several prisoners who blocked efforts of five men to escape from the jail.

Wednesday he appeared before Judge Carson Hoy to answer to a charge of failure to provide for his 10-year-old daughter. He pleaded guilty but Judge Hoy placed him on probation. He could have received a 1-3 year prison term.

"Your action in the attempted break Monday tipped the scales in your favor," Judge Hoy said. "Your conduct was some indication that you intend to become a decent citizen."

Real Winterish Weather Hitting

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio's first bad storm of 1957 dropped enough snow overnight to make a mess of rush-hour traffic this morning in many cities in the northern part of the state.

With as much as five inches of snow on the ground at some points early this morning, the weather bureau said there might be seven to nine inches by evening.

The snow was expected to spread across the state during the day. A cold wave warning was issued by the Weather Bureau. It called for snow, or rain changing to snow, in the southern part of the state with continued snow in the north.

The weatherman also predicted a sharp drop in temperatures with a low of five to 5 to 12 above zero expected tonight.

The state highway department reported today that highways north of a line marked by Batavia, Wilmington, Newark, New Philadelphia and Lisbon are covered by snow and are slippery.

Crews worked throughout the night on the Ohio Turnpike in an effort to keep the east-west toll road clear. The crews were out with snowplows and salt and grit spreaders.

* * *

TOLEDO POLICE reported a jamup during the night in traffic moving from the pike onto U. S. 20 near Toledo. About 40 cars were stalled there at one time.

In Cleveland, maintenance crews fought to keep even with the snow to make streets passable for the morning rush hour.

Cleveland's outlying suburbs reported hazardous driving.

The weather bureau blamed the heavy snow on a mass of warm, moist air imported along with a storm that started down around Texas. The warm, moist air collided with chilly lake air to produce the snow that started late Wednesday.

Below the snow belt early this morning was a band of freezing rain and drizzle which the weather bureau said extended across the state on a line through Canton and Findlay. Below that in the central and southern part of the state there was rain and fog and some thunderstorms.

The weather bureau said the snow would move southward to cover the entire state today.

The snow was expected to be "quick frozen" by the sudden drop in temperatures, adding to the driving hazards in some areas.

Near blizzard conditions were reported in many Midwest areas in the storm. Gusty northerly winds whipped the falling snow into drifts, blocking some highways and slowing travel.

* * *

THE HEAVIEST band of snow extended from Colorado and Wyoming into extreme eastern Nebraska, most of Iowa, southern Wisconsin, southern Lower Michigan and northern sections of Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. Falls generally were from 4 to 10 inches.

The storm center moved eastward during the night and snow spread into northern Pennsylvania and southern New York. Falls of from 3 to 7 inches were forecast and equal amounts were in prospect for the Northeast.

The frigid zone extended over the Northern Plains and upper Mississippi Valley, where readings were generally below zero. Marks of 10 below or less were reported in most of the Dakotas, Minnesota and eastern Montana. It was -23 at International Falls.

Bad Weather Closes Most Rural Schools

Snow, freezing rain— even a little thunder and lightning— hit the Fayette County area Wednesday night and Thursday morning, making highways dangerous for a time and forcing most schools in the Miami Trace district to close their doors Thursday.

Superintendent Walter W. Boyer reported only three Miami Trace schools open— New Martinsburg, Wayne (Good Hope) and Olive, all in the southern part of the county. Boyer said that, if predictions of continued bad weather came true, it might be necessary to keep some schools closed Friday because of the bus travel hazard.

City schools were all in session, Superintendent W. A. Smith's office said.

* * *

WHILE city streets remained in generally good condition, state and county roads were slippery early Thursday. Expectations were, however, that they would be in good shape again by afternoon, with only a few slick spots and bad hills.

State Highway Department crews were on the job at 5 a. m., almost as soon as roads began getting slippery, spreading salt to melt the ice and cinders to give traction. By mid-morning all state highways had been gone over at least once.

County Engineer Charles Wagner had eight trucks in operation by 8 a. m., giving the same treatment to county roads.

Coyt A. Stookey, local weather observer, reported that precipitation up to 7 a. m. totaled .92 inches, with the temperature hovering around 27 degrees through the night and early morning.

The thunder and lightning came about 10:30 p. m. Wednesday, with the temperature around the freezing point, but didn't last long, as the mercury dropped into the upper 20s.

4 Churches Bombed in New Race Dispute

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Four Negro churches and the homes of two ministers—one white and one Negro—were bombed here early today less than 12 hours after another racially integrated city bus was ambushed with gunfire. No injuries were reported.

Mayor W. A. Gayle ordered bus service halted "until further notice" as a precautionary measure.

The six bombings were the newest and most violent outbreaks of trouble since bus segregation ended under a federal court order here Dec. 21.

The home of the Rev. Robert Graetz, a white minister who serves an all-Negro congregation at the Trinity-Lutheran Church, was one target of the bombing attacks. The front door was blown in and walls damaged.

Negro ministers in Atlanta planned another organized attack on segregated bus seating today while the Georgia National guard remained on a standby alert ready to put down any "riots, insurrections and breaches of the peace" that might develop.

Gov. Marvin Griffin ordered the state militia to be "subject to call at a moment's notice" Wednesday after six Negro preachers announced a test of the city's racially separate bus seating setup.

The Rev. William Holmes Borders, pastor of the Wheat Street Baptist Church and leader of the movement, said:

"Either we ride the buses desegregated or we ride a chariot in heaven or push a wheelbarrow in hell."

County Appropriations Hit Record $469,962

City Approves Appropriations; 1957 Costs To Be $4,660 Less

City Council approved two appropriation ordinances Wednesday night, allocating $51,509 in general fund monies for the three - month period ending March 31, and $226,165 for sewers, streets and bond retirement for the full 12 months of 1957.

The appropriation measures were passed after City Manager James F. Parkinson had presented a budget estimating total expenditures for the year from all funds at $391,993, including debt service and interest.

Council approved a general fund budget for the year of $185,793.26 with anticipated general fund revenues of $185,896, which would leave a general fund balance of $103.26.

BUDGETED general fund expenditures are $4,660.28 less than last year despite a general salary increase to city employes effective Jan. 1 and a $7,000 appropriation for cemetery land acquisition approved by Council two weeks ago.

The city manager pointed out that the city's income from real estate taxes will be further reduced this year and is now 10 per cent below two years ago.

* * *

THE THREE-MONTH general fund appropriation covers the following departments:

Council, $270; auditor, $2,070; treasurer, $289; solicitor, $915; Municipal Court, $2,625; engineering, $100; legal advertising, $100; civil service, $67.50; City Planning Commission, $12.50; city manager, $1,505; police department (including a 12-month cruiser appropriation of $1,500), $13,825; prisoner sustenance, $300; workhouse, $675;

Fire department, $9,754 ;burials, $112.50; street lighting, $5,000; parking meters, $1,815; city building, $2,448.50; cemetery land purchase, $3,000; water rentals, $1,825; retirement contributions, $625; withheld by county auditor for examination county fees and the city's share of health service, $3,050.

TWELVE - MONTH appropriations for other departments are as follows:

Sewage system, $61,500; street construction, maintenance and repair, $104,700; general bond retirement, $4,180; special assessment bond retirement, $15,785.71; street improvement levy, $40,000.

City Action Assures Cemetery Expansion

Purchase by the city of a 9.41-acre tract immediately west of Washington Cemetery to be used for the future expansion of the burial ground was authorized by Council Wednesday night when it became apparent that trustees of Union Township would not be able to provide their share of the $10,000 purchase price at this time.

The cemetery, operated jointly by Union Township and the city, must expand, and, bordered as it is on three sides by Paint Creek, the Pennsylvania Railroad and Washington Ave., the only direction for expansion is westward.

And the only land available there is the acreage owned by Bud and Mary Brownell who have offered it at the $10,000 figure. The land lying between the cemetery and a line 100 feet east of Ely St., includes a house and barn.

Council two weeks ago appropriated $7,000 from the city's general fund for the municipality's share of the purchase price with the expectation that Union Township would be able to provide the additional $3,000. The township trustees investigated the possibility of transferring the money from an unappropriated balance in the township's fire protection fund but were informed by their attorney that in his opinion this action would be illegal.

* * *

CITY COUNCIL, agreeing that immediate acquisition of the acreage is essential to the necessary expansion of the cemetery, Wednesday night added a $3,000 item to the appropriation ordinance for the first quarter of 1957 to complete the purchase in the name of the city, with the anticipation that details of an agreement with the Union Township Board can be worked out later.

The money provided covers only acquisition of the land. Plans for improvement of the tract will come later in cooperation with township officials and the cemetery board.

Union Township voters, last November, turned down a proposed $8,000 bond issue for the subdivision's share of the cost of the land purchase and improvement of the addition.

Higher Costs, Salaries Boost Operation Bill

Work on appropriations setting up an all-time record amount of $469,962.19 to cover 1957 expenses of Fayette County government departments, has been completed by the Fayette County Board of Commissioners.

The total amount appropriated at the same time last year was $428,603, covering the same items, or $41,359.19 less than this year's appropriation.

The above amounts included the county highway expenses paid largely from the Maintenance and Repair Fund which comes from motor vehicle and gas tax reimbursements from the state.

Aside from this highway money, the strictly county appropriations raised through local taxes for 1957 were $341,692.19. Last year appropriations for the same items amounted to $305,303, an increase this year of $36,389.19.

All county officials call attention to the fact that increasing costs in almost every line has raised expenses of necessary office supplies as well as other operations.

New expenses arising this year bringing with them necessity of higher appropriations included many items. As one example, the state Workmen's Compensation fees for county employees covered, jumped approximately $5,000, due to a new higher rate fixed by the state.

New expenses under new laws passed by the last Ohio General Assembly included increased salaries for county officials which in this county amounted to a total of $12,000.

Added to these is the cost of $16,000 as the 1957 share of reappraisal of realty property in the county with a similar amount to come in 1958.

There were wages and salary increases in various county departments for deputies and clerks; also a climb from last year's $12,000 to $20,000 1957 in soldiers' relief expenses, plus requirements for an additional amount to match state funds in the county welfare department.

COUNTY commissioners report that they had to do some sharp cutting in budgets submitted in several departments in order to keep within the total funds available, as reported by the county budget commission. They declare however that they are happy that operating costs are still within the county's income without having to ask for any additional operating levy.

The appropriations made to county departments for regular 1957 expenses, including salaries of deputies, clerks, office supplies

Perrill Gets Three Top Committee Assignments

Rep. Virgil Perrill, who Monday started his sixth two - year term as Fayette County's representative in the lower house of the Ohio General Assembly, has been given three of the top committee assignments in the State Legislature.

Two of the assignments were to committees on which he has served during his first five terms. They were the agriculture and financial institutions committees. The third was a new one—the all - important Rules Committee.

The committee assignments were made by Rep. Roger Cloud, speaker of the House. Notice of them was received by Perrill Thursday at his home here.

REP. VIRGIL PERRILL

To accept the assignment to the Rules Committee, Perrill had to relinquish the chairmanship of the Agriculture Committee, which he has had during his last three terms, because members of the Rules Committee may not hold chairmanships of any other committees. (A list of House and Senate committee chairmanships will be found on Page 4.)

However, he said, he had agreed in a conference with Cloud about two weeks ago, that he would remain on both the Agriculture and Financial institutions committees.

* * *

THE RULES committee is the most powerful of the House; it is actually the policy - making committee which virtually controls the progress of legislation through the House.

Perrill goes into his committee assignments with a background of 10 years of experience in legislative processes, considered an important factor in determining the make - up of all committees.

The Financial Institutions Committee handles the legislation concerning banks, loan and finance firms and banking in general.

The Agriculture committee, also considered one of the more important ones of the Legislature, handles legislation pertaining to all phases of farming. Perrill said that, in view of the importance of agriculture in Fayette County, he was anxious to retain his membership of this committee, although he did have to relinquish the chairmanship.

It was while he headed this com-

Macmillan Named British Premier

He is an old friend of President Eisenhower and Britons can count on him to strive to repair the damage done American-British relations by the invasion of Egypt.

He succeeds Sir Anthony Eden both as the Queen's first minister and as leader of the Conservative party—a party torn by the results of Eden's ill-fated venture into Egypt.

Macmillan supported Eden's military expedition, at least to a point, and does not command the Conservatives' complete support. But in naming him her first minister, Queen Elizabeth II showed she believed he was wider support in the party than Richard A. Butler, whom many politicians overnight had figured as Eden's successor. Butler favored a softer line against Egypt than Eden and many of his colleagues took.

The Queen before announcing her choice called in Sir Winston Churchill and the Marques of Salisbury, two of the ranking Conservative leaders. They likely recommended Macmillan.

* * *

MACMILLAN moves up from his post as chancellor of the exchequer, the government's key financial post. He will have a free hand in picking the team he wants to run the government.

Macmillan at 62 is three years older than Eden, who resigned Wednesday night with the explanation that his health prevented him from continuing to give his full loyalty to the job. Eden had served 21 months, a comparatively short term for prime minister, in succession to Churchill.

The new prime minister reported there would be no general election for the present.

"If there was," he added, "we (the Conservatives) would win it."

Under the results of the 1955 election the Conservative mandate extends to May 26, 1960. Macmillan can serve that entire time if he wishes.

Macmillan went to Buckingham Palace this afternoon to receive the Queen's designation of him as her first minister.

Macmillan also faces the job of strengthening commonwealth bonds strained by Eden's Middle East policies.

Finally, he must cope with an economic crisis heightened by the abortive British-French military intervention in Egypt and the closing of the Suez Canal with its consequent loss of oil for Britain and Western Europe.

Macmillan Has Close Ties To U. S.; Mother a Hoosier

But the successor to Sir Anthony Eden looks and acts nothing like a Hoosier. Macmillan is a mustached man, sad-faced but witty. He has a flare for fashion that recalls the Edwardian days.

He was a wartime associate of President Eisenhower and has used for a vacation the "Eisenhower flat" in Culzean Castle, Ayrshire. The National Trust of Scotland gave the flat to Eisenhower in 1945 in appreciation of his World War II leadership.

Macmillan's mother was Nellie Belles of Spencer, Ind. Last September he visited his mother's old home. At that time he discovered he had left all his American money behind. He had to borrow coins to put in the collection plate at the Methodist Church.

HE WAS BORN in London Feb. 10 1894. The 6-foot aristocrat went to Eton and Oxford and was a grenadier guardsman in World War I. He married Lady Dorothy Cavendish, and they have four children.

He was elected to Parliament in 1924.

Churchill has called him a "man of fearless intelligence." They worked together against Neville Chamberlain's appeasement of Hitler and Mussolini, and Churchill in World War II appointed him secretary of the Ministry of Supply. There he helped build Britain's great war arsenal. Later he was in the colonial ministry as parliamentary undersecretary of state, and dealt with the production of raw materials for war.

City Approves Appropriations; 1957 Costs To Be $4,660 Less

City Council approved two appropriation ordinances Wednesday night, allocating $51,509 in general fund monies for the three - month period ending March 31, and $226,165 for sewers, streets and bond retirement for the full 12 months of 1957.

The appropriation measures were passed after City Manager James F. Parkinson had presented a budget estimating total expenditures for the year from all funds at $391,993, including debt service and interest.

Council approved a general fund budget for the year of $185,793.26 with anticipated general fund revenues of $185,896, which would leave a general fund balance of $103.26.

BUDGETED general fund expenditures are $4,660.28 less than last year despite a general salary increase to city employes effective Jan. 1 and a $7,000 appropriation for cemetery land acquisition approved by Council two weeks ago.

The city manager pointed out that the city's income from real estate taxes will be further reduced this year and is now 10 per cent below two years ago.

THE THREE-MONTH general fund appropriation covers the following departments:

Council, $270; auditor, $2,070; treasurer, $289; solicitor, $915; Municipal Court, $2,625; engineering, $100; legal advertising, $100; civil service, $67.50; City Planning Commission, $12.50; city manager, $1,505; police department (including a 12-month cruiser appropriation of $1,500), $13,825; prisoner sustenance, $300; workhouse, $675;

Fire department, $9,754 ;burials, $112.50; street lighting, $5,000; parking meters, $1,815; city building, $2,448.50; cemetery land purchase, $3,000; water rentals, $1,825; retirement contributions, $625; withheld by county auditor for examination county fees and the city's share of health service, $3,050.

TWELVE - MONTH appropriations for other departments are as follows:

Sewage system, $61,500; street construction, maintenance and repair, $104,700; general bond retirement, $4,180; special assessment bond retirement, $15,785.71; street improvement levy, $40,000.

City Action Assures Cemetery Expansion

Purchase by the city of a 9.41-acre tract immediately west of Washington Cemetery to be used for the future expansion of the burial ground was authorized by Council Wednesday night when it became apparent that trustees of Union Township would not be able to provide their share of the $10,000 purchase price at this time.

The cemetery, operated jointly by Union Township and the city, must expand, and, bordered as it is on three sides by Paint Creek, the Pennsylvania Railroad and Washington Ave., the only direction for expansion is westward.

And the only land available there is the acreage owned by Bud and Mary Brownell who have offered it at the $10,000 figure. The land lying between the cemetery and a line 100 feet east of Ely St., includes a house and barn.

Council two weeks ago appropriated $7,000 from the city's general fund for the municipality's share of the purchase price with the expectation that Union Township would be able to provide the additional $3,000. The township trustees investigated the possibility of transferring the money from an unappropriated balance in the township's fire protection fund but were informed by their attorney that in his opinion this action would be illegal.

* * *

CITY COUNCIL, agreeing that immediate acquisition of the acreage is essential to the necessary expansion of the cemetery, Wednesday night added a $3,000 item to the appropriation ordinance for the first quarter of 1957 to complete the purchase in the name of the city, with the anticipation that details of an agreement with the Union Township Board can be worked out later.

The money provided covers only acquisition of the land. Plans for improvement of the tract will come later in cooperation with township officials and the cemetery board.

Union Township voters, last November, turned down a proposed $8,000 bond issue for the subdivision's share of the cost of the land purchase and improvement of the addition.

Council's action last night follow-

Higher Costs, Salaries Boost Operation Bill

Work on appropriations setting up an all-time record amount of $469,962.19 to cover 1957 expenses of Fayette County government departments, has been completed by the Fayette County Board of Commissioners.

The total amount appropriated at the same time last year was $428,603, covering the same items, or $41,359.19 less than this year's appropriation.

The above amounts included the county highway expenses paid largely from the Maintenance and Repair Fund which comes from motor vehicle and gas tax reimbursements from the state.

Aside from this highway money, the strictly county appropriations raised through local taxes for 1957 were $341,692.19. Last year appropriations for the same items amounted to $305,303, an increase this year of $36,389.19.

All county officials call attention to the fact that increasing costs in almost every line has raised expenses of necessary office supplies as well as other operations.

New expenses arising this year bringing with them necessity of higher appropriations included many items. As one example, the state Workmen's Compensation fees for county employees covered, jumped approximately $5,000, due to a new higher rate fixed by the state.

New expenses under new laws passed by the last Ohio General Assembly included increased salaries for county officials which in this county amounted to a total of $12,000.

Added to these is the cost of $16,000 as the 1957 share of reappraisal of realty property in the county with a similar amount to come in 1958.

There were wages and salary increases in various county departments for deputies and clerks; also a climb from last year's $12,000 to $20,000 1957 in soldiers' relief expenses, plus requirements for an additional amount to match state funds in the county welfare department.

COUNTY commissioners report that they had to do some sharp cutting in budgets submitted in several departments in order to keep within the total funds available, as reported by the county budget commission. They declare however that they are happy that operating costs are still within the county's income without having to ask for any additional operating levy.

The appropriations made to county departments for regular 1957 expenses, including salaries of deputies, clerks, office supplies

Perrill Gets Three Top Committee Assignments

Rep. Virgil Perrill, who Monday started his sixth two - year term as Fayette County's representative in the lower house of the Ohio General Assembly, has been given three of the top committee assignments in the State Legislature.

Two of the assignments were to committees on which he has served during his first five terms. They were the agriculture and financial institutions committees. The third was a new one—the all - important Rules Committee.

The committee assignments were made by Rep. Roger Cloud, speaker of the House. Notice of them was received by Perrill Thursday at his home here.

REP. VIRGIL PERRILL

To accept the assignment to the Rules Committee, Perrill had to relinquish the chairmanship of the Agriculture Committee, which he has had during his last three terms, because members of the Rules Committee may not hold chairmanships of any other committees. (A list of House and Senate committee chairmanships will be found on Page 4.)

However, he said, he had agreed in a conference with Cloud about two weeks ago, that he would remain on both the Agriculture and Financial institutions committees.

* * *

THE RULES committee is the most powerful of the House; it is actually the policy - making committee which virtually controls the progress of legislation through the House.

Perrill goes into his committee assignments with a background of 10 years of experience in legislative processes, considered an important factor in determining the make - up of all committees.

The Financial Institutions Committee handles the legislation concerning banks, loan and finance firms and banking in general.

The Agriculture committee, also considered one of the more important ones of the Legislature, handles legislation pertaining to all phases of farming. Perrill said that, in view of the importance of agriculture in Fayette County, he was anxious to retain his membership of this committee, although he did have to relinquish the chairmanship.

It was while he headed this com-

Macmillan Named British Premier

He is an old friend of President Eisenhower and Britons can count on him to strive to repair the damage done American-British relations by the invasion of Egypt.

He succeeds Sir Anthony Eden both as the Queen's first minister and as leader of the Conservative party—a party torn by the results of Eden's ill-fated venture into Egypt.

Macmillan supported Eden's military expedition, at least to a point, and does not command the Conservatives' complete support. But in naming him her first minister, Queen Elizabeth II showed she believed he was wider support in the party than Richard A. Butler, whom many politicians overnight had figured as Eden's successor. Butler favored a softer line against Egypt than Eden and many of his colleagues took.

The Queen before announcing her choice called in Sir Winston Churchill and the Marques of Salisbury, two of the ranking Conservative leaders. They likely recommended Macmillan.

* * *

MACMILLAN moves up from his post as chancellor of the exchequer, the government's key financial post. He will have a free hand in picking the team he wants to run the government.

Macmillan at 62 is three years older than Eden, who resigned Wednesday night with the explanation that his health prevented him from continuing to give his full loyalty to the job. Eden had served 21 months, a comparatively short term for prime minister, in succession to Churchill.

The new prime minister reported there would be no general election for the present.

"If there was," he added, "we (the Conservatives) would win it."

Under the results of the 1955 election the Conservative mandate extends to May 26, 1960. Macmillan can serve that entire time if he wishes.

Macmillan went to Buckingham Palace this afternoon to receive the Queen's designation of him as her first minister.

Macmillan also faces the job of strengthening commonwealth bonds strained by Eden's Middle East policies.

Finally, he must cope with an economic crisis heightened by the abortive British-French military intervention in Egypt and the closing of the Suez Canal with its consequent loss of oil for Britain and Western Europe.

Macmillan Has Close Ties To U. S.; Mother a Hoosier

But the successor to Sir Anthony Eden looks and acts nothing like a Hoosier. Macmillan is a mustached man, sad-faced but witty. He has a flare for fashion that recalls the Edwardian days.

He was a wartime associate of President Eisenhower and has used for a vacation the "Eisenhower flat" in Culzean Castle, Ayrshire. The National Trust of Scotland gave the flat to Eisenhower in 1945 in appreciation of his World War II leadership.

Macmillan's mother was Nellie Belles of Spencer, Ind. Last September he visited his mother's old home. At that time he discovered he had left all his American money behind. He had to borrow coins to put in the collection plate at the Methodist Church.

HE WAS BORN in London Feb. 10 1894. The 6-foot aristocrat went to Eton and Oxford and was a grenadier guardsman in World War I. He married Lady Dorothy Cavendish, and they have four children.

He was elected to Parliament in 1924.

Churchill has called him a "man of fearless intelligence." They worked together against Neville Chamberlain's appeasement of Hitler and Mussolini, and Churchill in World War II appointed him secretary of the Ministry of Supply. There he helped build Britain's great war arsenal. Later he was in the colonial ministry as parliamentary undersecretary of state, and dealt with the production of raw materials for war.

Secret Research Lab Is Damaged

NEW YORK (AP) — A New York University laboratory building housing a secret government chemical research project was rocked by two explosions today.

No one was injured in the explosions or the fire which followed.

Cause of the explosions was not immediately determined.

Belt and Haines were released after emergency treatment, but Kyle was kept in the hospital overnight until the extent of his head injuries could be determined. He was released Thursday morning.

DEPUTY SHERIFF Charles Hays reported, after talking with four witnesses, that the 1½ - ton gasoline truck had slowed down before entering the bridge from the east when another truck was approaching from the west and that the car carrying the two soldiers and hitch-hiker, also west bound, ran into it from behind.

Earl B. Arnold, 46, Route 2, New Holland, driver of the gasoline truck was not injured and damage to his truck was relatively minor.

The crash was witnessed by Lee Mossbarger, Sam Minshall and Chester Mitchem, all of New Holland. They were in the truck headed east which had pulled up at the west end of the bridge to give the gasoline truck the right-of-way.

HAYS SAID Belt told him he had ordered the new 1957 Chevrolet before sailing for home from Europe and picked it up when he reached New York three days ago. Damage to the car was estimated at more than $1,000. The speedometer showed less than 600 miles, most of them put on as Belt and Kyle drove from New York toward their homes in Arkansas. Hays said he did not know whether Belt had taken out collision insurance before he started west.

Haines, the deputy said, told him he was hitch-hiking to California. But after the accident, he said Haines told him he given up his trip to California and was going back to Pittsburgh or New York.

Northwest Phone Asks Rate Boost

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Northwestern Telephone Service Co. of Wauseon which serves about 16,000 telephones through its 21 exchanges today asked the state utilities commission to permit a raise in rates of $157,928 a year.

George B. Quatman of Lima, president of the company, said increased operating expenses and taxes make a rate increase necessary so the company can earn a fair return on its investment. Present rates have been in effect since 1953.

Lausche, Bricker On Same Panels

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic Sen. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio today found himself co-member of two Senate committees with Republican Sen. John Bricker.

Sen. Bricker is the No. 1 Republican on the Senate Commerce Committee and No. 2 GOP leader on the Senate Banking Committee, Lausche has been named to both committees.

An aide to Sen. Lausche said the former Ohio governor was highly pleased with his assignments.

Deaf Mute Claimed Held As 'Slave'

MT. CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) — A St. Clair Shores, Mich., man and woman were ordered held in lieu of $2,500 bond each Wednesday after they were charged with enslaving a deaf mute from Ohio.

The charge of enslavement was brought by Mrs. Pearl Lejeune of Fremont, Ohio, on behalf of her 25-year-old son John.

The charge was filed against Robert L. Merritt, 31, and Mrs. Marguerite Rood, 35, both of whom are also deaf mutes.

Mrs. Lejeune accused the couple of luring her son to suburban St. Clair Shores last June and keeping him in bondage.

Macomb County Assistant Prosecutor John Danehey said the mother told him Merritt and Mrs. Rood persuaded her son to give up a $60-a-week job in a Fremont bakery to sell needles and other merchandise from house to house in St. Clair Shores.

Danahey said Lejeune earned about $150 a week but was allowed to keep only $2 for himself.

Mrs. Lejeune charged that her son was mistreated and his weight dropped from 200 to 130 pounds. She said the couple persuaded Lejeune to sign over to them an income tax refund check for $432.

The mother told Danahey her son wanted to return to Fremont but couldn't get away because "someone" beat him every time he tried. Danahey said Lejeune got away last week and returned to Fremont.

Tax-Dodging Waiter Fined $10,000

NEW YORK (AP) — A former Waldorf-Astoria Hotel head waiter who failed to put thousands in tips on his tax return was fined $10,000 Wednesday. Arthur Hagedorn, 54, also was put on probation for 18 months.

He could have been sentenced to up to five years in prison but was given leniency because he paid $11,781 in taxes, penalties and interest.

His predecessor as Waldorf headwaiter, Hans Paul, 65, was given a four-month jail sentence and a $7,500 fine last April on a similar charge.

Rock 'n' Roll Said Decaying Art Sign

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Rock 'n' roll, says a Harvard sociologist, "is not the antasy of crazy teen-agers, bu a symptom of a decaying art form in America."

As for one of its chief exponents, Elvis Presley, the man said, he can be summed up as "wild modern music in general."

These views were expressed Wednesday by Dr. Pitirim Sorokin in a panel discussion of fine arts at the meeting of the Association of American Colleges.

Dr. Sorokin said "we are living through the descent of our art forms into the social sewers inhabited by all kinds of dehumanized and pathological human animals."

Mrs. Morris Baker, 618 Columbus Ave., who entered Grant Hospital, Columbus, Monday, underwent major surgery, Thursday morning.

Glenn E. Lee of Columbus, is reported in serious condition in White Cross Hospital, Columbus, where he was admitted Monday, following a sudden illness suffered at his home. He is a brother of Mrs. Homer D. Wilson, 311½ N. Hinde St.

Mrs. Thomas Martschinsky, 827 Washington Ave., is reported as improving nicely in University Hospital, Columbus, following major surgery, on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Heer have returned from New York, where they spent the past ten days attending Spring Clinics and purchasing merchandise for January and early spring sale, in the interest of the Steen Dry Goods Store.

Elmer Cockerill of Greenfield, is reported as recovering nicely in Memorial Hospital, following major surgery.

Traffic Fatality Curb Probe Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress members expressed growing concern today over the increasing number of traffic fatalities, which reached a record 40,200 last year.

Rep. Fogarty (D-RI) said he would ask the House for creation a special committee to make "an immediate, sweeping investigation" of traffic deaths.

Rep. Rees (R-Kan) prepared a bill to bar federal aid for building highways where speed limits exceed 65 miles an hour on limited access dual highways, and 60 miles an hour by day and 55 miles an hour by night on others.

Sight Returns To Man Blind For 10 Years

MANSFIELD, Tex. (AP) — Ten years of blindness apparently was ended today for John Howard Griffin, a well - known author whose sight failed after a World War II injury.

Griffin, 34, whose novel "The Devil Rides Outside" was a best-seller in 1952, said his vision suddenly returned to him Wednesday while he was working on another novel on his parent's farm here. He said his first reaction was joy, and disbelief.

"It was a terrible shock. I had received no jar, no bump. I started walking from my workshop toward my parents' house. Suddenly everything looked like red sand in front of my eyes.

"Then I saw the outline of the door. I went inside and called a Mansfield doctor who rushed right over. I was near collapse."

He said the doctor asked him "to read a note in his pocket, and I did it."

"The 'note' was a doctor's prescription. We laughed, figuring reading it was the supreme test."

Griffin said an eye surgeon told him a blockage of circulation must have suddenly been broken. His sight returned when blood flowed through the optic nerve.

Griffin went blind in 1944 while serving as an Air Force sergeant in the South Pacific. He suffered a concussion when a B24 caught fire and blew up.

Oil Well Blast

LOGAN (AP) — Fred Houston of Ludlow, Ky. was killed in an oil well explosion here Wednesday.

The Hocking County sheriff's office reported that John S. Bohlen, owner of the well and Clark Talbott, a contractor at the well, received minor injuries. Cause of the explosion was not immediately known.

Perrill Assignments

mittee last year that the law regarding the personal property tax on stored wheat was amended by the Legislature. Perrill said that one of the problems facing the committee— and the rules committee— was to steer legislation to "clarify the law (tax on stored wheat) and clear up the inequities."

* * *

PERRILL SAID the committee undoubtedly would take up this problem. Judge John P. Case recently granted an injunction against collection of the tax in Fayette County and held the stored wheat was not owned by the farmers, once they delivered it to the elevator and the Commodity Credit Corp. under the federal price support program.

Presumably, clarification of the law will be sought because the injunction granted by Judge Case affects only Fayette County farmers, and not the wheat growers in the state's other 87 counties.

A six pound, four ounce daughter, was born in Memorial Hospital, Wednesday at 10:19 p. m., to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fels, of Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Johnson, of Hollywood, Florida, are announcing the birth of a six pound, twelve ounce son, David Donavon, in a Hollywood Hospital, December 3. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are former residents of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Phares, 429 E. Elm St., are the parents of a six pound, fifteen ounce son, born at 6:07 p. m. Wednesday, in Memorial Hospital.

Northwest Phone Asks Rate Boost

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Northwestern Telephone Service Co. of Wauseon which serves about 16,000 telephones through its 21 exchanges today asked the state utilities commission to permit a raise in rates of $157,928 a year.

George B. Quatman of Lima, president of the company, said increased operating expenses and taxes make a rate increase necessary so the company can earn a fair return on its investment. Present rates have been in effect since 1953.

Lausche, Bricker On Same Panels

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic Sen. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio today found himself co-member of two Senate committees with Republican Sen. John Bricker.

Sen. Bricker is the No. 1 Republican on the Senate Commerce Committee and No. 2 GOP leader on the Senate Banking Committee, Lausche has been named to both committees.

An aide to Sen. Lausche said the former Ohio governor was highly pleased with his assignments.

Deaf Mute Claimed Held As 'Slave'

MT. CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) — A St. Clair Shores, Mich., man and woman were ordered held in lieu of $2,500 bond each Wednesday after they were charged with enslaving a deaf mute from Ohio.

The charge of enslavement was brought by Mrs. Pearl Lejeune of Fremont, Ohio, on behalf of her 25-year-old son John.

The charge was filed against Robert L. Merritt, 31, and Mrs. Marguerite Rood, 35, both of whom are also deaf mutes.

Mrs. Lejeune accused the couple of luring her son to suburban St. Clair Shores last June and keeping him in bondage.

Macomb County Assistant Prosecutor John Danehey said the mother told him Merritt and Mrs. Rood persuaded her son to give up a $60-a-week job in a Fremont bakery to sell needles and other merchandise from house to house in St. Clair Shores.

Danahey said Lejeune earned about $150 a week but was allowed to keep only $2 for himself.

Mrs. Lejeune charged that her son was mistreated and his weight dropped from 200 to 130 pounds. She said the couple persuaded Lejeune to sign over to them an income tax refund check for $432.

The mother told Danahey her son wanted to return to Fremont but couldn't get away because "someone" beat him every time he tried. Danahey said Lejeune got away last week and returned to Fremont.

Tax-Dodging Waiter Fined $10,000

NEW YORK (AP) — A former Waldorf-Astoria Hotel head waiter who failed to put thousands in tips on his tax return was fined $10,000 Wednesday. Arthur Hagedorn, 54, also was put on probation for 18 months.

He could have been sentenced to up to five years in prison but was given leniency because he paid $11,781 in taxes, penalties and interest.

His predecessor as Waldorf headwaiter, Hans Paul, 65, was given a four-month jail sentence and a $7,500 fine last April on a similar charge.

Rock 'n' Roll Said Decaying Art Sign

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Rock 'n' roll, says a Harvard sociologist, "is not the fantasy of crazy teen-agers, but a symptom of a decaying art form in America."

As for one of its chief exponents, Elvis Presley, the man said, he can be summed up as "wild modern music in general."

These views were expressed Wednesday by Dr. Pitirim Sorokin in a panel discussion of fine arts at the meeting of the Association of American Colleges.

Dr. Sorokin said "we are living through the descent of our art forms into the social sewers inhabited by all kinds of dehumanized and pathological human animals."

Mainly About People

Mrs. Morris Baker, 618 Columbus Ave., who entered Grant Hospital, Columbus, Monday, underwent major surgery, Thursday morning.

Glenn E. Lee of Columbus, is reported in serious condition in White Cross Hospital, Columbus, where he was admitted Monday, following a sudden illness suffered at his home. He is a brother of Mrs. Homer D. Wilson, 311½ N. Hinde St.

Mrs. Thomas Martschinsky, 827 Washington Ave., is reported as improving nicely in University Hospital, Columbus, following major surgery, on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Heer have returned from New York, where they spent the past ten days attending Spring Clinics and purchasing merchandise for January and early spring sale, in the interest of the Steen Dry Goods Store.

Elmer Cockerill of Greenfield, is reported as recovering nicely in Memorial Hospital, following major surgery.

Traffic Fatality Curb Probe Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress members expressed growing concern today over the increasing number of traffic fatalities, which reached a record 40,200 last year.

Rep. Fogarty (D-RI) said he would ask the House for creation of a special committee to make "an immediate, sweeping investigation" of traffic deaths.

Rep. Rees (R-Kan) prepared a bill to bar federal aid for building highways where speed limits exceed 65 miles an hour on limited access dual highways, and 60 miles an hour by day and 55 miles an hour by night on others.

Most of the remaining old-growth forests in the United States are in twelve western states.

Sight Returns To Man Blind For 10 Years

MANSFIELD, Tex. (AP) — Ten years of blindness apparently was ended today for John Howard Griffin, a well - known author whose sight failed after a World War II injury.

Griffin, 34, whose novel "The Devil Rides Outside" was a best-seller in 1952, said his vision suddenly returned to him Wednesday while he was working on another novel on his parent's farm here. He said his first reaction was joy, and disbelief.

"It was a terrible shock. I had received no jar, no bump. I started walking from my workshop toward my parents' house. Suddenly everything looked like red sand in front of my eyes.

"Then I saw the outline of the door. I went inside and called a Mansfield doctor who rushed right over. I was near collapse."

He said the doctor asked him "to read a note in his pocket, and I did it."

"The 'note' was a doctor's prescription. We laughed, figuring reading it was the supreme test."

Griffin said an eye surgeon told him a blockage of circulation must have suddenly been broken. His sight returned when blood flowed through the optic nerve.

Griffin went blind in 1944 while serving as an Air Force sergeant in the South Pacific. He suffered a concussion when a B24 caught fire and blew up.

Oil Well Blast

LOGAN (AP) — Fred Houston of Ludlow, Ky. was killed in an oil well explosion here Wednesday.

The Hocking County sheriff's office reported that John S. Bohlen, owner of the well and Clark Talbott, a contractor at the well, received minor injuries. Cause of the explosion was not immediately known.

mittee last year that the law regarding the personal property tax on stored wheat was amended by the Legislature. Perrill said that one of the problems facing the committee— and the rules committee— was to steer legislation to "clarify the law (tax on stored wheat) and clear up the inequities."

* * *

PERRILL SAID the committee undoubtedly would take up this problem. Judge John P. Case recently granted an injunction against collection of the tax in Fayette County and held the stored wheat was not owned by the farmers, once they delivered it to the elevator and the Commodity Credit Corp. under the federal price support program.

Presumably, clarification of the law will be sought because the injunction granted by Judge Case affects only Fayette County farmers, and not the wheat growers in the state's other 87 counties.

Ceramic Works Lost in Fire

EAST LIVERPOOL (AP) — The Metsch Refractories Co. plant at near by Newell, W. Va., burned to the ground Wednesday.

Inaugural Fetes To Aid Children

COLUMBUS (AP) — [illegible] from the public luncheon and [illegible]gural ball next Monday will be given to the Ohio Crippled Children's Society, John Galbraith, chairman of the Ohio inaugural committee announced Wednesday.

The luncheon and ball will be part of the program at the inauguration of C. William O'Neill as governor, Paul M. Herbert as lieutenant governor, Ted W. Brown as secretary of state, James A. Rhodes as auditor, Roger W. Tracy as state treasurer and William Saxbe as attorney general.

Tom Mark Attends OAREB Conference

Tom Mark, Washington C. H. realtor and president of the Tri-County Real Estate Board (Fayette - Highland - Clinton), attended the annual conference of board presidents and secretaries of the Ohio Assn. of Real Estate Boards in Columbus Wednesday.

The meeting, held at the Deshler - Hilton, covered such matters as civic activities, membership enrollment and educational programs. Mark also is a member of the state board's public relations and publications committee.

Harold Foster, new state president of the OAREB addressed the conference on the topic, "A Little More—a Little Better Service".

Tito To Visit U. S. in April

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marshal Tito, Communist ruler of Yugoslavia, is expected to visit the United States, perhaps in April, despite objections voiced by some members of Congress.

If plans jell, Tito will be the first head of a Communist state to visit the United States.

Just A Reminder From Government Records

A great many of us are inclined to be critical of federal government because we think that there is too much evidence of government getting into the field of private business.

For the sake of the so - called American way of life, such criticism seems justified. However, there are some federal acts which begin to show progress in the other direction.

When charges are made of Uncle S a m being a "giveway" over too many years, perhaps it would be well for us, instead of turning away in wrath, to think over some of the things that the present administration has been doing that gives some brighter side to the picture even though there is still room for much more to be done.

The federal government sold some synthetic rubber plants that it built and operated during the World War II emergency. Uncle Sam got a good price for 'em, too.

Instead of a "giveaway," the government (and that includes you, Mr. T a xpayer) a c t u a l l y profited three ways. First, it got rid of a liability that was costing all us taxpayers money. Second, it got cash on the barrelhead for the sale. Third, it now collects taxes year by year from private enterprise owners now operating the plants.

Then there are the tidelands. Congress —Republicans and Democrats decided the tidelands should go to the states.

Since the states' rights to the areas was affirmed, private oil companies h a v e spent millions for exploration and development. New wells are mushrooming off our coastal shores. Soon the treasury will receive tidy sums in corporate income taxes which will grow for years.

Recently, Congress implemented moves to get the Department of Defense out of competition with private enterprise.

Was that a giveaway? Hardly! U n c l e Sam has been operating most of these projects with substantial chunks of taxpayer money. Government enterprises don't pay taxes. So the net result is a two-way drain on the taxpayers.

Getting these enterprises back under private business operation means t h a t they become lucrative sources of tax income for Uncle Sam. So who loses?

Legislature Awaits Tuesday And Flood of Proposed Bills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Legislature started a long weekend of rest today to get ready for Monday's inauguration of state officials and Tuesday's start on introduction of proposed laws.

The lawmakers probably set a record earlier this week when they jammed a bill through both houses only 24 hours after the 102nd General Assembly convened.

That act will be ready for C. William O'Neill to sign into law soon after he takes the oath as governor at noon Monday. It raises the salaries of all state department heads who will form his Cabinet. He will make his formal appointments after he signs the act. That will make his appointees eligible for the new salaries.

O'Neill asked for the law. He said he needed it to help him draft qualified key officials. Although interim Gov. John W. Brown had said he would sign the bill if it came to his desk, leaders of the GOP-controlled Legislature decided to hold off delivery of the bill to the governor's office until O'Neill takes office.

Delivery could be made not earlier than mid-afternoon Monday because the bill has been signed in neither house yet.

Committee assignments were read for legislators as the first legislative week ended. All committee chairmen, of course, are Republicans.

In the Senate, Sen. Tom V. Moorehead stepped out as Finance committee chairman because of a Senate rule limiting the head of that important committee to two two-year terms. He was replaced by Sen. David McK. Ferguson of Cambridge. Moorehead will remain as Finance committee vice-chairman and will take over Ferguson's old spot as Highway committee head.

Sen. Theodore M. Gray of Piqua took over the Rules committee spot of the late Sen. Robert Pollock of Canton. Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem of Nelsonville retains the chairmanship of the powerful committee.

Italian Bridge Team Far Ahead

NEW YORK (AP)—As 500 glum bridge enthusiasts watched, the Italian team gained 4,850 points in Wednesday night's session of the world championship match against the American champions.

This put the European champions 5,630 points ahead with only 76 hands to be played of the original schedule of 224 hands.

HAPPIER LANDINGS for survivors of airplane crash landings is the purpose of the micro-moisture pneumatic safety cushion being demonstrated by its designer, pioneer aviator Assen Jordanoff, in New York. Emotions Are Upset By Growing Spurts

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

The ages between five and nineteen are the healthiest years of life. Fewer Americans die during this period than at any other time. And each decade the record gets better and better.

No Smooth Sailing

This doesn't mean that these years will be smooth sailing for your youngsters.

Far from it. It's during this time that most children encounter real emotional problems, even though you are apt to take them lightly.

Youngsters begin their adolescent spurts at various ages. Girls generally begin this quick growing period earlier than boys. If a girl becomes gawky at the age of 10 or 11 she is likely to become very self-conscious.

She'll be touchy about her size, worry about her complexion and probably cry very readily. Ridicule from other boys and girls is a frequent hazard at this tender age. Make sure she isn't ridiculed at home and give her sympathy without being too obvious about it.

She'll want this sympathy, even though she might outwardly appear to resent it.

Being a "shorty," on the other hand, might be just as great a problem, especially when other youngsters in the neighborhood have already begun their growing spurt. Boys, particularly, are bothered by a late growing period.

If your youngster is one whose adolescent spurt is somewhat delayed, you've got to do your best to assure him that there is nothing wrong with him, and that eventually he'll be as much a man as his friends who are presently at that awkward stage.

Presents Problems

And don't think that an early spurt doesn't present problems for a boy, too. His voice will break just at the wrong times and he will seem to be all legs and arms. A faint hint of a coming mustache will probably appear on his lip.

All of these things are of deep concern to a youngster. They should be of concern to you, too.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

A. T.: Are fibroid tumors usually a sign of cancer?

Answer: In nearly all cases, fibroid tumors of the womb turn out to be non-cancerous.

Eyelashes Tell Character?

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Do your eyelashes tell your character? Grace Downs, head of an air hostess and modeling s c h o o l here, believes so. "If you have curved eyelashes," she says, "you are a calm person; if your lashes are short and straight, you have a nervous temperament; if your lashes are thin at the outer corners, you are lazy."

Forestry digest estimates that a single porcupine will destroy $6,000 worth of timber in its lifetime. Americans are getting more seashore conscious: New York public beaches s e r v e d 5 million people in 1934, but in 20 years the number increased to 61 million annually.

Tips to hunters: Don't target shoot at objects in the water; your bullet may ricochet off the surface. Never leave a loaded gun leaning against a tree; your frisky dog may bump against it, knock off the safety, then step on the trigger and bag his master. Experts say proper care could avoid 95 per cent of all hunting accidents.

Stupefying statistics for the uninformed: It takes six to eight weeks to make one of those one-minute TV commercials many folks complain about, but only one to two weeks to put on the dramas between them. Americans use 500 billion matches a year, or nearly 3,000 a person. A fish called the eulachon is so oily that, if it is dried and a wick is stuck to it, it will burn like a candle.

You could probably do the same thing with a whale, but it would take longer, and the neighbors might holler.

His own people are more of a long-range problem to President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt than either the British or the Suez Canal. The population increased 105 per cent between 1897 and 1949, but the land under cultivation increased only about 14 per cent. More than 96 per cent is desert. The population density along the Nile is 1,670 per square mile. Moslem pride in having large families makes difficult the task of curbing Egypt's birth rate, one of the highest in the world.

How many bald men have nicknames for their remaining hairs?

During the last election campaign President Eisenhower was quoted as remarking he had so few left he had names for them—"Helen, Edna, Ellen."

While we hesitate to disagree with Ike on a question of purely personal privilege, we question his wisdom in giving his dwindling hirsute souvenirs feminine names, as the Weather Bureau does hurricanes.

After all, they have not gone with the wind. These thin gray faithful survivors have shown none of the fickleness often attributed to women. Do they not deserve a higher reknown?

The Cult of Personality

By George Sokolsky

Perhaps one of the major difficulties among nations today is that there are so many personalities who are regarded as superior beings.

Therefore in m a n y countries the idea of a government of law not of men, of orderly and continuing procedures without regard to the men involve is hardly understandable.

For instance, in Egypt, Nasser who organized a colonel's revolution and in due course placed himself at the head of the government is regarded as a superior man. President Eisenhower is in many countries also regarded as a superior man although he did not place himself at the head of government but was elected to office by a popular v o t e and might well have been defeated in a different kind of election. To Egyptians, Eden is a personality because he heads a government, only personalities being permitted to head governments.

Apparently w h a t these worshipers of personalities would like would be for these godlike creatures to fight each other as the gods quarrelled on Olympus.

For instance, "Al-Sadat," an Egyptian newspaper, said:

"We can understand if America helps the British people, but we cannot understand at all America's helping Eden who has committed offenses against British people, the United States, Europe, and the whole world. We remember well the offense he committed against the United States when he stood up to challenge President Eisenhower from the platform of the House of Commons, knowing full well that Eisenhower was tied down by the election campaign and therefore could not answer him or bring him to account."

What the writer of those lines does not seem to grasp is that prime ministers and presidents come and go but that history is continuous. Did he really expect Eisenhower to fight Eden 10 rounds to determine who brought whom to account?

This same article says that Sir Anthony Eden spent tremendous sums to defeat President Eisenhower for a second term, which, I am sure, will be news to Stevenson as well as to Eisenhower and Eden.

As I recall it, the Democrats hardly had enough money to see them through the campaign. Also the British attack on Egypt not only did not interfere with President Eisenhower's reelection but guaranteed it because in the face of immediate military danger, many Americans voted for President Eisenhower who had no intention of doing so.

Attention is called to the curious psychology which places personality above all else as though men were gods and nations were the playthings of minor deities. Neither the United States n o r Great Britain would be very different from what they are if either Eisenhower or Eden or both of them disappeared from the political scene.

An orderly governmental process is not dependent upon personalities. In S o v i e t Russia, Khrushchev who led a r e v o l t against the cult of personality now finds himself forced to bow his head to the man - god image of Stalin by the pressure of public opinion which having been accustomed to fear and wors h i p Stalin, first rejected Khrushchev's rationalization of Stalin's role in history and now rejects Khrushchev. Without Stalin, the Kremlin is only a dungeon; with Stalin it meant power, force and death. Whichever way you look at it, the personality of Stalin was a cult because the Russian people were accustomed to autocracy and Stalin in that sense was the successor to Nicholas II, the last Romanov autocrat.

It is much the same with Nehru who has made a cult of himself by astute public relations. The test of Nehru's virtue lies not in Hungary where his opinion is worthless but in Kashmir where his opinion counts. T h e Pakistani foreign minister, Malik Firoz Khan Noon, said that Pakistan would agree to withdraw its troops from Kashmir if India would withdraw its troops and if a United Nations police force took over.

On this subject, Nehru is, of course, silent because this is a proposal that affects him, but he is all for a United Nations force operating in Egypt where it does not affect Nehru's power. Kashmir remains the yardstick of Nehru's sincerity and the only way to judge that situation is to ask why Nehru objects to a United Nations conducted plebiscite in Kashmir.

These cults of personality are almost universal and seem to be a Twentieth Century response to the adoration of law which marked the Nineteenth Century in Western Europe and North America.

Ohio Accident Total Up, but Fatalities Drop

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's drivers are getting into more accidents, but fewer are getting killed, the Department of Highway Safety reported Wednesday.

However, the report noted, injuries are rising as rapidly as traffic accidents.

A 3 per cent decline in t r a ffic fatalities from the 1955 total is expected when 1956 reports are compiled, Director U. C. Felty said. By the end of last November, there were 1,790 traffic deaths in Ohio, he said. For the same 11-month period in 1955, the number was 1,833.

On the other hand, Felty continued, there were 125,171 accidents and 63,576 injuries from January to October, 1956, an 11 per cent increase from 1955.

Special Telephone Deal Aids Medics

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati and Suburban Bell Telephone Co. on Feb. 1 will offer on a regular basis a service that helps doctors make better diagnoses in heart and brain cases.

Doctors and hospitals in Cincinnati for several years have been able to transmit electrocardiograms and electroencephalograms by telephone to doctors in other cities for consultation.

Electrocardiograms are photographic records of a heart action and electroencephalograms are photographic records of brain waves.

Just A Reminder From Government Records

A great many of us are inclined to be critical of federal government because we think that there is too much evidence of government getting into the field of private business.

For the sake of the so - called American way of life, such criticism seems justified. However, there are some federal acts which begin to show progress in the other direction.

When charges are made of Uncle S a m being a "giveway" over too many years, perhaps it would be well for us, instead of turning away in wrath, to think over some of the things that the present administration has been doing that gives some brighter side to the picture even though there is still room for much more to be done.

The federal government sold some synthetic rubber plants that it built and operated during the World War II emergency. Uncle Sam got a good price for 'em, too.

Instead of a "giveaway," the government (and that includes you, Mr. T a xpayer) a c t u a l l y profited three ways. First, it got rid of a liability that was costing all us taxpayers money. Second, it got cash on the barrelhead for the sale. Third, it now collects taxes year by year from private enterprise owners now operating the plants.

Then there are the tidelands. Congress —Republicans and Democrats decided the tidelands should go to the states.

Since the states' rights to the areas was affirmed, private oil companies h a v e spent millions for exploration and development. New wells are mushrooming off our coastal shores. Soon the treasury will receive tidy sums in corporate income taxes which will grow for years.

Recently, Congress implemented moves to get the Department of Defense out of competition with private enterprise.

Was that a giveaway? Hardly! U n c l e Sam has been operating most of these projects with substantial chunks of taxpayer money. Government enterprises don't pay taxes. So the net result is a two-way drain on the taxpayers.

Getting these enterprises back under private business operation means t h a t they become lucrative sources of tax income for Uncle Sam. So who loses?

Eyelashes Tell Character?

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Do your eyelashes tell your character? Grace Downs, head of an air hostess and modeling s c h o o l here, believes so. "If you have curved eyelashes," she says, "you are a calm person; if your lashes are short and straight, you have a nervous temperament; if your lashes are thin at the outer corners, you are lazy."

Forestry digest estimates that a single porcupine will destroy $6,000 worth of timber in its lifetime. Americans are getting more seashore conscious: New York public beaches s e r v e d 5 million people in 1934, but in 20 years the number increased to 61 million annually.

Tips to hunters: Don't target shoot at objects in the water; your bullet may ricochet off the surface. Never leave a loaded gun leaning against a tree; your frisky dog may bump against it, knock off the safety, then step on the trigger and bag his master. Experts say proper care could avoid 95 per cent of all hunting accidents.

Stupefying statistics for the uninformed: It takes six to eight weeks to make one of those one-minute TV commercials many folks complain about, but only one to two weeks to put on the dramas between them. Americans use 500 billion matches a year, or nearly 3,000 a person. A fish called the eulachon is so oily that, if it is dried and a wick is stuck to it, it will burn like a candle.

You could probably do the same thing with a whale, but it would take longer, and the neighbors might holler.

His own people are more of a long-range problem to President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt than either the British or the Suez Canal. The population increased 105 per cent between 1897 and 1949, but the land under cultivation increased only about 14 per cent. More than 96 per cent is desert. Emotions Are Upset By Growing Spurts

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

The ages between five and nineteen are the healthiest years of life. Fewer Americans die during this period than at any other time. And each decade the record gets better and better.

No Smooth Sailing

This doesn't mean that these years will be smooth sailing for your youngsters.

Far from it. It's during this time that most children encounter real emotional problems, even though you are apt to take them lightly.

Youngsters begin their adolescent spurts at various ages. Girls generally begin this quick growing period earlier than boys. If a girl becomes gawky at the age of 10 or 11 she is likely to become very self-conscious.

She'll be touchy about her size, worry about her complexion and probably cry very readily. Ridicule from other boys and girls is a frequent hazard at this tender age. Make sure she isn't ridiculed at home and give her sympathy without being too obvious about it.

She'll want this sympathy, even though she might outwardly appear to resent it.

Being a "shorty," on the other hand, might be just as great a problem, especially when other youngsters in the neighborhood have already begun their growing spurt. Boys, particularly, are bothered by a late growing period.

If your youngster is one whose adolescent spurt is somewhat delayed, you've got to do your best to assure him that there is nothing wrong with him, and that eventually he'll be as m u c h a man as his friends who are presently at that awkward stage.

Presents Problems

And don't think that an early spurt doesn't present problems for a boy, too. His voice will break just at the wrong times and he will seem to be all legs and arms. A faint hint of a coming mustache will probably appear on his lip.

All of these things are of deep concern to a youngster. They should be of concern to you, too.

Legislature Awaits Tuesday And Flood of Proposed Bills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Legislature started a long weekend of rest today to get ready for Monday's inauguration of state officials and Tuesday's start on introduction of proposed laws.

The lawmakers probably set a record earlier this week when they jammed a bill through both houses only 24 hours after the 102nd General Assembly convened.

That act will be ready for C. William O'Neill to sign into law soon after he takes the oath as governor at noon Monday. It raises the salaries of all state department heads who will form his Cabinet. He will make his formal appointments after he signs the act. That will make his appointees eligible for the new salaries.

O'Neill asked for the law. He said he needed it to help him draft qualified key officials. Although interim Gov. John W. Brown had said he would sign the bill if it came to his desk, leaders of the GOP-controlled Legislature decided to hold off delivery of the bill to the governor's office until O'Neill takes office.

Delivery could be made not earlier than mid-afternoon Monday because the bill has been signed in neither house yet.

Committee assignments were made for legislators as the first legislative week ended. All committee chairmen, of course, are Republicans.

In the Senate, Sen. Tom V. Moorehead stepped out as Finance committee chairman because of a Senate rule limiting the head of that important committee to two two-year terms. He was replaced by Sen. David McK. Ferguson of Cambridge. Moorehead will remain as Finance committee vice-chairman and will take over Ferguson's old spot as Highway committee head.

Sen. Theodore M. Gray of Piqua took over the Rules committee spot of the late Sen. Robert Pollock of Canton. Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem of Nelsonville retains the chairmanship of the powerful committee.

People. . .Places. . .and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

When green fabrics change to yellow; navy blue to light purple; red to light beige, various other colors switch to new hues, and even newspapers turn pink, that is really something to mystify a person, particularly when the condition continues over a period of many years.

That is the reason Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ater, and their friends, who have seen evidence of the unexplained changing of colors at the Ater home, 241 N. Main St., New Holland, are deeply mystified and have been seeking the explanation.

As result of the colors changing in all fabrics but woolen goods, many beliefs have been advanced but so far none have been at all satisfactory.

These beliefs range all the way from possible presence of uranium under the Ater property, or possible seepage of gas or other fumes into the house, to the presence of some acid or compound in or near the house.

After viewing many of the articles which had changed color and inspecting the premises in a limited way, I could offer no logical explanation. The Aters use a kerosene stove for cooking, and bottled gas and coal for heating.

The fabrics involved in the complete change of color run from silks, nylons, rayons, and cottons, to mixtures of the various fabrics.

Some of the many things where complete changes were noted by Mrs. Ater, include green window drapes, from green to yellow; a green scarf to beige; a navy blue scarf to light purple; a man's dark brown jacket to rust; a bath robe from cherry red to light beige; a shirt from tan to light lavender; a red dress to rust. Many other articles also have undergone changes.

Newspapers have changed to a light pink and also became so affected that they crumble into pieces.

Scarfs and other articles, wrapped in tissue paper and laid away, were found to be an entirely different color when they were unwrapped.

Mr. and Mrs. Ater have occupied their present home some 12 years, and the color changing has been under way most of the time since then, Mrs. Ater stated.

The Aters have accepted the situation as being something beyond their control, but would naturally welcome an explanation of the mysterious color changes.

ROBINSON ROAD

Robinson Rd., which is blacktopped from the city eastward to the White Rd. near Plano (Dog Town) like all other highly improved roads in the county today, was not always passable.

I recall while working subscriptions for the Fayette County Record soon after the turn of the century, that I drove over the road in a buggy, and there was not a foot of the road where a horse could make better time than a slow walk, much of the time pulling hard to move the buggy through the muddy, rutted surface.

I recall, with two or three brief stops, that it required 2½ hours to make the trip from this city to the Camp Grove Rd., a matter of some five miles or less.

Then I turned northward on the Camp Grove or Jones Rd., to get on the Washington C. H.-New Holland Rd., which was more passable, although it, too, was in bad condition with plenty of ruts, puddles, and uneven surface generally.

WALNUT TIMBER ABUNDANT

One hundred years ago, and longer, there was an abundance of walnut timber in Fayette County, and this, along with other kinds of timber, fell in great quantities before the swing of the ax and was burned to make way for the plow.

In those days the walnut trees were not small by any means and the story is related that a huge walnut tree, which was hollow, stood along the road near Grassy Branch just west of Luttrell, in Jasper Twp.

Some of the old timers recall the stories of how men, driving turkeys to market, would halt at the tree over night, and the turkey drivers would sleep inside the hollow tree.

One estimate was that the tree was more than six feet in diameter, and was a landmark in the Luttrell community for many years.

RED BARNS VANISHING

As the years go by more and more farm barns are being painted white or some other color besides the box-car red which characterized so many barns over a long period of years.

As a result of barns painted white, lipstick red, or other color, farms are taking on quite a different appearance, and as the box-car red barns require paint, many of them are being given a different color, adding to the attractiveness of the farms.

Just why the off-color red was adopted for barns in the beginning is not known, and as people become more color-conscious and appreciative, they are giving a great deal more attention to colors which harmonize for best results.

Farben Employes To Get Payment

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Some 4,000 persons who worked as slave laborers for the I. G. Farben chemical trust during World War II will receive $7,140,000 under a settlement expected soon.

The liquidators of what was once Germany's biggest individual concern are about to sign an agreement with representatives of the Jewish Conference on Material Claims Against Germany.

I. G. Farben agreed to a settlement after a court recommendation last year. It will pay the lump sum to the Jewish conference, which in turn will pay claims.

New Idle Pay Claims Decrease

COLUMBUS (AP)—The number of new claimants for unemployment compensation decreased, and the number of continuing claims increased for the week ended Jan. 5, the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation says.

New claims for the period dropped from 13,483 to 11,997, the bureau reported, while claims of those unemployed one week or more increased from 50,437 to 55,796. The average number of weekly new claims for January last year was 13,126, and the average weekly continuing claims for that period was 50,642.

The Brazilian Island of Trinidad, about 750 miles east of the Brazilian coast, is still uninhabited. It was once claimed by the British, but they withdrew their claims when the Brazilian Government objected.

When green fabrics change to yellow; navy blue to light purple; red to light beige, various other colors switch to new hues, and even newspapers turn pink, that is really something to mystify a person, particularly when the condition continues over a period of many years.

That is the reason Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ater, and their friends, who have seen evidence of the unexplained changing of colors at the Ater home, 241 N. Main St., New Holland, are deeply mystified and have been seeking the explanation.

As result of the colors changing in all fabrics but woolen goods, many beliefs have been advanced but so far none have been at all satisfactory.

These beliefs range all the way from possible presence of uranium under the Ater property, or possible seepage of gas or other fumes into the house, to the presence of some acid or compound in or near the house.

After viewing many of the articles which had changed color and inspecting the premises in a limited way, I could offer no logical explanation. The Aters use a kerosene stove for cooking, and bottled gas and coal for heating.

The fabrics involved in the complete change of color run from silks, nylons, rayons, and cottons, to mixtures of the various fabrics.

Some of the many things where complete changes were noted by Mrs. Ater, include green window drapes, from green to yellow; a green scarf to beige; a navy blue scarf to light purple; a man's dark brown jacket to rust; a bath robe from cherry red to light beige; a shirt from tan to light lavender; a red dress to rust. Many other articles also have undergone changes.

Newspapers have changed to a light pink and also became so affected that they crumble into pieces.

Scarfs and other articles, wrapped in tissue paper and laid away, were found to be an entirely different color when they were unwrapped.

Mr. and Mrs. Ater have occupied their present home some 12 years, and the color changing has been under way most of the time since then, Mrs. Ater stated.

The Aters have accepted the situation as being something beyond their control, but would naturally welcome an explanation of the mysterious color changes.

ROBINSON ROAD

Robinson Rd., which is blacktopped from the city eastward to the White Rd. near Plano (Dog Town) like all other highly improved roads in the county today, was not always passable.

I recall while working subscriptions for the Fayette County Record soon after the turn of the century, that I drove over the road in a buggy, and there was not a foot of the road where a horse could make better time than a slow walk, much of the time pulling hard to move the buggy through the muddy, rutted surface.

I recall, with two or three brief stops, that it required 2½ hours to make the trip from this city to the Camp Grove Rd., a matter of some five miles or less.

Then I turned northward on the Camp Grove or Jones Rd., to get on the Washington C. H.-New Holland Rd., which was more passable, although it, too, was in bad condition with plenty of ruts, puddles, and uneven surface generally.

WALNUT TIMBER ABUNDANT

One hundred years ago, and longer, there was an abundance of walnut timber in Fayette County, and this, along with other kinds of timber, fell in great quantities before the swing of the ax and was burned to make way for the plow.

In those days the walnut trees were not small by any means and the story is related that a huge walnut tree, which was hollow, stood along the road near Grassy Branch just west of Luttrell, in Jasper Twp.

Some of the old timers recall the stories of how men, driving turkeys to market, would halt at the tree over night, and the turkey drivers would sleep inside the hollow tree.

One estimate was that the tree was more than six feet in diameter, and was a landmark in the Luttrell community for many years.

Miller-Jenkins Wedding Vows Read Jan. 6

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Mrs. Ruth Miller and Mr. Charles W. Jenkins of this city on Sunday, January 6.

The ceremony was performed at 4:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. W. W. Bobo, niece of Mr. Jenkins in New Carlisle with Rev. C. A. Flath officiating before a fireplace in the living room, and mantel decorations were pink carnations, white snapdragons, and lighted tapers in silver candelabra.

Mrs. Miller chose for her marriage a royal blue faille dress, with accessories of white and her corsage was pink roses.

Attendants for couple were Mrs. Letha Dowler, sister of the bride, and Mr. Clifford Jenkins, brother of the bridegroom, both of Dayton.

Following the ceremony an informal reception and buffet dinner was held at the home of Mrs. Bobo and guests included were from Dayton, Springfield, New Carlisle, Dialton and Washington C. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins are at home to their friends at 628 High St., and on January 15 they plan to leave on a trip to Florida.

Mrs. Feagans Is Hostess To Browning Club

Members of the Browning Club met for the first session of the New Year at the home of Mrs. Jess Feagans and due to the inclement weather the attendance was small.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Willard Bitzer and the Collect was read in unison.

A short business meeting was held which included the minutes of the last meeting read by Mrs. Darrell Weinrich in the absence of the secretary, also letters from members who had been ill or bereaved.

The treasurer's report was also given and there was also discussion on the annual banquet to be given in April.

Mrs. Bitzer introduced Miss May Duffee, vice chairman of the literature department, who had charge of the program in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Elton Elliott. Miss Duffee read the quotation for the day "A wise man will hear and will increase learning; and a man of understanding shall attain unto wise counsel." Proverbs I-5.

"Christ— as seen by His Contemporaries," was given by Mrs. Carol Murdock. She took her subject from a book by Harry Emmerson Fosdick, "The Man of Nazareth." This was especially interesting as Mrs. Murdock knew Mr. Fosdick and he had been entertained at her mother's home and she had also heard him preach in New York.

She said in part, quoting from the book— "The name of Jesus had proceeded and everywhere He went He was surrounded by crowds. He caught the public imagination, the common people especially were drawn to Him, they saw Him as a Jew, one of themselves with a common background and upbringing. He spoke in parables they could understand. He was exciting, stormy and formidable. No soft, tranquil spirit could collect the crowd as He did. Another thing that drew the crowds were the miracles. He was at ease with all sorts of people. Some thought He treated with disdain ceremonial customes and breaking down barriers.

Jesus' faith making loyalty to God a personal matter, instead of following tribal rules and regulations. He allowed his disciples to pluck corn on the Sabbath because they were hungry. Jesus demanded love toward all, even their enemies.

He made himself champion of the poorer classes and they responded to his understanding and love. He championed the women and children. They responded with loyal gratitude. He was the first to emancipate womanhood. He chose the twelve disciples from all walks of life. He taught them by means of parables to carry on His work when He was gone. Judas betrayed Him, Peter denied Him and the others fled. They were all very human. Their faith in Him wavered until they were sure He had triumphed over death."

The next paper "Literature of the Bible" was given by Mrs. Grace Iden. The Old Testament is not a single book but a library of many books. Each book had a special significance for it's own time and gave inspiration to the people before it became united with the Bible as a whole. People sang songs, told stories, delighted in riddles and wise sayings and handed them down from generation to generation in oral tradition long before there was a written form. There are lyric songs in Genesis and other books. Riddles were a favorite pastime of Israel in all ages. We still have the riddle which Sampson propounded at his wedding. David was celebrated as a minstrel and a poet.

Poetry and religion go together. In moments of religious experience when the soul is in tune with the eternal harmony of God, prose is not adequate to express joy or its longings; in rhythmic cadance praise and prayer reveal the deepest feelings and desires. That is why "The Psalms" are so important, they reveal the inner life of the Jewish people. The book of "Job" by many literary critics is considered the greatest book of the entire Bible. The New Testament writers did not aim to produce literature. Their object to reach immediate public attention in the shortest possible time. They often attain a force quite beyond the reach of art. This is true of the Gospels which tells the story of Jesus simply, just as it has come down in popular tradition. Paul has given the world's literature some of its grandest passages. The New Testament is one of the finest and most interesting of all books, men will continue to treasure it and through the book they will know the Christian religion.

Dinner Meeting Of Lioness Club At Country Club

The tables were attractively decorated at the Country Club with evergreens, candles, and calendars when the Lioness Club was reminded that a new year faces the organization, a year in which to carry on the purposes of the organization to better fulfillment.

The President, Mrs. Ray C. French, opened the meeting by having the group sing "America," accompanied by Mrs. Andrew Loudner, and the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and invocation was given by Mrs. Robert Boyd.

Following the dinner, the meeting was turned over to the hostess committee, with Mrs. Marvin H. Roszmann as chairman, Mrs. Robert G. Boyd, Mrs. Lawrence Grimard Mrs. Charles M. Pfersick completing the committee. Mrs. Roszmann introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Richard J. Anderson, assistant director of the Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus. Mr. Anderson speaks with much authority on this topic for he has spent much time in Africa and the Near-East. His talk, as well as being most informative, was delightfully entertaining.

He spoke of the importance of the Nile Valley to the life of Egypt, especially emphasizing the value of the flooding of the Nile each spring in bringing new soil to Egypt on which Egyptians can raise, year after year, without the concern of wearing out the soil, the excellent Egyptian cotton. He described the pitiable condition under which the large majority of the people live, describing that the average family income is not more than $100 per year. The ousting of the last king, Farouk, by Naguib, with his moderately rebellious army, and then the taking-over by Nasser with his more ambitiously rebellious army was detailed. Mr. Anderson emphasized that a leader who has seized his power by force in a country must produce or he himself is soon ousted. Mr. Nasser decided to raise the standard of living of the Egyptians by industrializing the country. To industrialize, he needed electric power. The only available source of electric power there would be hydroelectric power through the building of a huge dam on the Nile River. Mr. Anderson most amusingly described Mr. Nasser's attempts to get money from the United States, and then from Russia, to build a dam— a dam which would have adverse effects on the neighboring country of Anglo - Egyptian Sudan; and possibly change Egypt completely if the Nile would not have its annual spring floods.

When Col. Nasser was unsuccessful in getting the money for this dam, he looked for another source of money for Egypt, and decided to take over the Suez Canal. Mr. Anderson gave a brief history of the building of the Canal— a project which Napoleon had considered undertaking until the battle of Waterloo took his attention off all kinds of ambitious projects. Ferdinand Delesseps, however, took Napoleon's plans and ideas and by forming a corporation built the canal. The Khedive of Egypt was given 180,000 shares of stock, but instead of using this money for the good of Egypt, he foolishly gambled the stocks away, and Benjamin Disraeli, then Prime Minister of England, managed to get the stocks, in secrecy, and to quote Mr. Anderson, "under an ethical cloud."

Mr. Anderson said that England and France's excuse for going into the Suez area on a punitive expedition on the excuse that "Nasser would close the Canal" was illogical in the extreme, for why would Nasser close the one thing by which he might get enough money to build the dam which he felt was needed.

Mr. Anderson closed his talk by saying that he would prophesy that the Suez Canal would be cleaned; that Nasser will control it for Egypt; that Egypt's face will thereby be saved; and that the United States will pay for the whole thing. But he closed by saying that nothing is accomplished by the sword, and the peaceful method is the one that must be used.

Following the speech, the business meeting was held. The following guests were introduced: Mrs. Willis F. Coffman, Mrs. Malcolm M. Dorn, Miss Jan Gillen, Mrs. Charles S. Hire, Miss Helen Hutson, Mrs. Robert Link, Mrs. George O'Briant, Mrs. Harold Slagle and Miss Sara Terhune. Mrs. Robert E. Miller was welcomed as a guest and a prospective member of Lioness. Mrs. Charles Griffith was welcomed back as a returned member to the club.

Mrs. French then thanked the committees for the dinner and for the dinner-dance in December. The secretary, Mrs. Richard Patton, then gave her report, followed by the report of the treasurer, Mrs. Charles E. Buxton. The various committee chairmen gave their reports. The transportation committee with Mrs. Harry Thrailkill as chairman, reported ten trips to Columbus, taking children to the eye-clinic, in the last month.

Because the Lionesses have a part in the Lions' Show, Mrs. French announced the appointment of a committee to carry out the Lioness program: Mrs. Byers W. Shaw, chairman, Mrs. Wayne Bower and Mrs. Robert G. Boyd.

Mrs. Elmer N. Reed reported on the next Blood Bank in Washington, February 6, asking as many women as possible to donate blood.

Mrs. Ralph L. Bray then read a very interesting life-history of Mrs. Charles E. Buxton.

The meeting was then adjourned.

Circle 11 of the WSCS of Grace Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. Clark Sheppard for the regular monthly meeting.

Opened by the leader, Mrs. Donald Fowler, with prayer, the business session consisted of roll call by thirteen members, secretary and treasurer reports, and plans were made for a white elephant and bake sale to be held at the next meeting.

Mrs. Floyd West was program chairman for the evening and Mrs. Harold Moats served as devotional leader including a number of poems, a prayer, and a skit entitled "Islands in Our Community". The devotionals and program were combined.

The remainder of the evening was spent in the counting of sales tax stamps, and a delicious sandwich course was served by the hostess.

Mrs. Rodman Scott will be hostess for the next meeting, February 12.

A fruit pie should be covered and kept at room temperature; before serving the pie may be heated in the oven.

Blue Bird Group Assembles for Meeting

All of the members were present and the meeting opened with the Blue Bird Wish after which finger painting was enjoyed by the girls.

January Meeting Of Queen Esther's Held in Church

The Queen Esther Class of First Christian Church met for the January meeting in the basement of the church, Tuesday evening.

Sixteen members were present and the president, Miss Bertha Switzer, led in the devotions. Group singing of the hymn "God Will Take Care of You", was followed by Scripture reading and prayer by Mrs. Louise Stewart.

Rev. Don McMillin gave a talk using as his topic "Bible School Attendance", and asked each member to write a short letter to Norma Campbell, the Living Link Missionary to the Philippine Islands.

Regular reports were accepted as given, and the class decided to donate a food basket to a needy family sometime in February. Mrs. Fern Campbell, teacher of the class, closed the meeting with prayer.

Hostesses for the serving of tempting refreshments were officers of the class, Miss Bertha Switzer, Mrs. Fern Campbell, Mrs Ted Pierson, Mrs. Ed Johnson, Mrs. Edna Davis, Mrs. Wilma Vanway, Mrs. Eva Warner, Mrs. Gladys Phillips, and Mrs. Louise Stewart.

Rev. and Mrs. Don McMillin were included as guests.

New Officers In BPO Does Are Installed

The regular meeting of B.P.O. Does Drive No. 80, was held in the Elks Lodge Room, with Mrs. Darrell Williams, president, presiding over the opening ritual.

The secretary and treasurer's reports were heard and approved as were those of the chairmen of the various committees.

Officers for the coming year were installed by the Deputy Supreme President Mrs. Heber Roe, and Deputy Supreme Secretary Mrs. Charles Fults.

Those assuming the obligations of their respective offices were: Mrs. Charles James, president; Mrs. Paul Anderson, first counselor; Mrs. Tom Murray, senior counselor; Mrs. Ray Wilhelm, junior counselor; Mrs. Charles M. Fults, secretary; Mrs. John M. O'Conner, treasurer; Miss Marian Osborn, conductor; Mrs. Donald Soale, inner guard; Mrs. Homer R. McCoy, trustee; and Mrs. Darrell Williams, trustee for three years, was presented with a jewelled past president's pin by Mrs. Leo Fisher as a gift from the Drove.

Appointed officers also installed were: Mrs. C. S. Kelley, chapiain; Mrs. Robert J. Osborn, musician; Mrs. Charles Funk, assistant conductor; Mrs. Robert Ferguson, Mrs. Delbert Carr, Mrs. Horace Jacobs and Mrs. Robert Helfrich, color bearers; Mrs. Mary E. Carlisle, Mrs. Marion McCoy, Mrs. Andre Metais and Mrs. Paul Mohr attendants.

Following the installation Mrs. Darrell Williams was hostess to the members for a delightful social hour during which she served dainty refreshments in the lounge room.

Miller-Jenkins Wedding Vows Read Jan. 6

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Mrs. Ruth Miller and Mr. Charles W. Jenkins of this city on Sunday, January 6.

The ceremony was performed at 4:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. W. W. Bobo, niece of Mr. Jenkins in New Carlisle with Rev. C. A. Flath officiating before a fireplace in the living room, and mantel decorations were pink carnations, white snapdragons, and lighted tapers in silver candelabra.

Mrs. Miller chose for her marriage a royal blue faille dress, with accessories of white and her corsage was pink roses.

Attendants for couple were Mrs. Letha Dowler, sister of the bride, and Mr. Clifford Jenkins, brother of the bridegroom, both of Dayton.

Following the ceremony an informal reception and buffet dinner was held at the home of Mrs. Bobo and guests included were from Dayton, Springfield, New Carlisle, Dialton and Washington C. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins are at home to their friends at 628 High St., and on January 15 they plan to leave on a trip to Florida.

Mrs. Feagans Is Hostess To Browning Club

Members of the Browning Club met for the first session of the New Year at the home of Mrs. Jess Feagans and due to the inclement weather the attendance was small.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Willard Bitzer and the Collect was read in unison.

A short business meeting was held which included the minutes of the last meeting read by Mrs. Darrell Weinrich in the absence of the secretary, also letters from members who had been ill or bereaved.

The treasurer's report was also given and there was also discussion on the annual banquet to be given in April.

Mrs. Bitzer introduced Miss May Duffee, vice chairman of the literature department, who had charge of the program in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Elton Elliott. Miss Duffee read the quotation for the day "A wise man will hear and will increase learning; and a man of understanding shall attain unto wise counsel." Proverbs I-5.

"Christ— as seen by His Contemporaries," was given by Mrs. Carol Murdock. She took her subject from a book by Harry Emmerson Fosdick, "The Man of Nazareth." This was especially interesting as Mrs. Murdock knew Mr. Fosdick and he had been entertained at her mother's home and she had also heard him preach in New York.

She said in part, quoting from the book— "The name of Jesus had proceeded and everywhere He went He was surrounded by crowds. He caught the public imagination, the common people especially were drawn to Him, they saw Him as a Jew, one of themselves with a common background and upbringing. He spoke in parables they could understand. He was exciting, stormy and formidable. No soft, tranquil spirit could collect the crowd as He did. Another thing that drew the crowds were the miracles. He was at ease with all sorts of people. Some thought He treated with disdain ceremonial customes and breaking down barriers.

Jesus' faith making loyalty to God a personal matter, instead of following tribal rules and regulations. He allowed his disciples to pluck corn on the Sabbath because they were hungry. Jesus demanded love toward all, even their enemies.

He made himself champion of the poorer classes and they responded to his understanding and love. He championed the women and children. They responded with loyal gratitude. He was the first to emancipate womanhood. He chose the twelve disciples from all walks of life. He taught them by means of parables to carry on His work when He was gone. Judas betrayed Him, Peter denied Him and the others fled. They were all very human. Their faith in Him wavered until they were sure He had triumphed over death."

The next paper "Literature of the Bible" was given by Mrs. Grace Iden. The Old Testament is not a single book but a library of many books. Each book had a special significance for it's own time and gave inspiration to the people before it became united with the Bible as a whole. People sang songs, told stories, delighted in riddles and wise sayings and handed them down from generation to generation in oral tradition long before there was a written form. There are lyric songs in Genesis and other books. Riddles were a favorite pastime of Israel in all ages. We still have the riddle which Sampson propounded at his wedding. David was celebrated as a minstrel and a poet.

Poetry and religion go together. In moments of religious experience when the soul is in tune with the eternal harmony of God, prose is not adequate to express joy or its longings; in rhythmic cadance praise and prayer reveal the deepest feelings and desires. That is why "The Psalms" are so important, they reveal the inner life of the Jewish people. The book of "Job" by many literary critics is considered the greatest book of the entire Bible. The New Testament writers did not aim to produce literature. Their object to reach immediate public attention in the shortest possible time. They often attain a force quite beyond the reach of art. This is true of the Gospels which tells the story of Jesus simply, just as it has come down in popular tradition. Paul has given the world's literature some of its grandest passages. The New Testament is one of the finest and most interesting of all books, men will continue to treasure it and through the book they will know the Christian religion.

Dinner Meeting Of Lioness Club At Country Club

The tables were attractively decorated at the Country Club with evergreens, candles, and calendars when the Lioness Club was reminded that a new year faces the organization, a year in which to carry on the purposes of the organization to better fulfillment.

The President, Mrs. Ray C. French, opened the meeting by having the group sing "America," accompanied by Mrs. Andrew Loudner, and the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and invocation was given by Mrs. Robert Boyd.

Following the dinner, the meeting was turned over to the hostess committee, with Mrs. Marvin H. Roszmann as chairman, Mrs. Robert G. Boyd, Mrs. Lawrence Grimard Mrs. Charles M. Pfersick completing the committee. Mrs. Roszmann introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Richard J. Anderson, assistant director of the Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus. Mr. Anderson speaks with much authority on this topic for he has spent much time in Africa and the Near-East. His talk, as well as being most informative, was delightfully entertaining.

He spoke of the importance of the Nile Valley to the life of Egypt, especially emphasizing the value of the flooding of the Nile each spring in bringing new soil to Egypt on which Egyptians can raise, year after year, without the concern of wearing out the soil, the excellent Egyptian cotton. He described the pitiable condition under which the large majority of the people live, describing that the average family income is not more than $100 per year. The ousting of the last king, Farouk, by Naguib, with his moderately rebellious army, and then the taking-over by Nasser with his more ambitiously rebellious army was detailed. Mr. Anderson emphasized that a leader who has seized his power by force in a country must produce or he himself is soon ousted. Mr. Nasser decided to raise the standard of living of the Egyptians by industrializing the country. To industrialize, he needed electric power. The only available source of electric power there would be hydroelectric power through the building of a huge dam on the Nile River. Mr. Anderson most amusingly described Mr. Nasser's attempts to get money from the United States, and then from Russia, to build a dam— a dam which would have adverse effects on the neighboring country of Anglo - Egyptian Sudan; and possibly change Egypt completely if the Nile would not have its annual spring floods.

When Col. Nasser was unsuccessful in getting the money for this dam, he looked for another source of money for Egypt, and decided to take over the Suez Canal. Mr. Anderson gave a brief history of the building of the Canal— a project which Napoleon had considered undertaking until the battle of Waterloo took his attention off all kinds of ambitious projects. Ferdinand Delesseps, however, took Napoleon's plans and ideas and by forming a corporation built the canal. The Khedive of Egypt was given 180,000 shares of stock, but instead of using this money for the good of Egypt, he foolishly gambled the stocks away, and Benjamin Disraeli, then Prime Minister of England, managed to get the stocks, in secrecy, and to quote Mr. Anderson, "under an ethical cloud."

Mr. Anderson said that England and France's excuse for going into the Suez area on a punitive expedition on the excuse that "Nasser would close the Canal" was illogical in the extreme, for why would Nasser close the one thing by which he might get enough money to build the dam which he felt was needed.

Mr. Anderson closed his talk by saying that he would prophesy that the Suez Canal would be cleaned; that Nasser will control it for Egypt; that Egypt's face will thereby be saved; and that the United States will pay for the whole thing. But he closed by saying that nothing is accomplished by the sword, and the peaceful method is the one that must be used.

Following the speech, the business meeting was held. The following guests were introduced: Mrs. Willis F. Coffman, Mrs. Malcolm M. Dorn, Miss Jan Gillen, Mrs. Charles S. Hire, Miss Helen Hutson, Mrs. Robert Link, Mrs. George O'Briant, Mrs. Harold Slagle and Miss Sara Terhune. Mrs. Robert E. Miller was welcomed as a guest and a prospective member of Lioness. Mrs. Charles Griffith was welcomed back as a returned member to the club.

Mrs. French then thanked the committees for the dinner and for the dinner-dance in December. The secretary, Mrs. Richard Patton, then gave her report, followed by the report of the treasurer, Mrs. Charles E. Buxton. The various committee chairmen gave their reports. The transportation committee with Mrs. Harry Thrailkill as chairman, reported ten trips to Columbus, taking children to the eye-clinic, in the last month.

Because the Lionesses have a part in the Lions' Show, Mrs. French announced the appointment of a committee to carry out the Lioness program: Mrs. Byers W. Shaw, chairman, Mrs. Wayne Bower and Mrs. Robert G. Boyd.

Mrs. Elmer N. Reed reported on the next Blood Bank in Washington, February 6, asking as many women as possible to donate blood.

Mrs. Ralph L. Bray then read a very interesting life-history of Mrs. Charles E. Buxton.

The meeting was then adjourned.

Circle 11 of the WSCS of Grace Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. Clark Sheppard for the regular monthly meeting.

Opened by the leader, Mrs. Donald Fowler, with prayer, the business session consisted of roll call by thirteen members, secretary and treasurer reports, and plans were made for a white elephant and bake sale to be held at the next meeting.

Mrs. Floyd West was program chairman for the evening and Mrs. Harold Moats served as devotional leader including a number of poems, a prayer, and a skit entitled "Islands in Our Community". The devotionals and program were combined.

The remainder of the evening was spent in the counting of sales tax stamps, and a delicious sandwich course was served by the hostess.

Mrs. Rodman Scott will be hostess for the next meeting, February 12.

A fruit pie should be covered and kept at room temperature; before serving the pie may be heated in the oven.

Blue Bird Group Assembles for Meeting

All of the members were present and the meeting opened with the Blue Bird Wish after which finger painting was enjoyed by the girls.

The Queen Esther Class of First Christian Church met for the January meeting in the basement of the church, Tuesday evening.

Sixteen members were present and the president, Miss Bertha Switzer, led in the devotions. Group singing of the hymn "God Will Take Care of You", was followed by Scripture reading and prayer by Mrs. Louise Stewart.

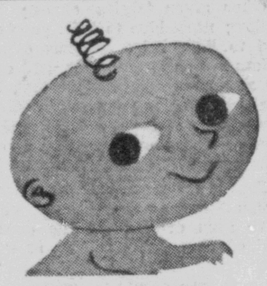

Rev. Don McMillin gave a talk using as his topic "Bible School Attendance", and asked each member to write a short letter to Norma Campbell, the Living Link Missionary to the Philippine Islands.

Regular reports were accepted as given, and the class decided to donate a food basket to a needy family sometime in February. Mrs. Fern Campbell, teacher of the class, closed the meeting with prayer.

Hostesses for the serving of tempting refreshments were officers of the class, Miss Bertha Switzer, Mrs. Fern Campbell, Mrs Ted Pierson, Mrs. Ed Johnson, Mrs. Edna Davis, Mrs. Wilma Vanway, Mrs. Eva Warner, Mrs. Gladys Phillips, and Mrs. Louise Stewart.

Rev. and Mrs. Don McMillin were included as guests.

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba—In an era of supersonic weapons and jet speeds, the lumbering, 75-mile-an-hour top speed blimp still is an essential unit of a naval combat team. It is one of the best electronics platforms used by the U. S. Navy.

The helium-filled, lighter-than-air craft has two tasks. The K series is used to hunt down enemy submarines. The NAN series' major function is early detection of enemy aircraft approaching our shores. These latter blimps can hover on-station for as long as two weeks under any weather condition.

An important part of the Navy's blimp section is the five squadrons on reserve basis. These men spend 12 weekends training every year, plus a two-week training cruise. A typical squadron is ZP 651 of the naval air station in Akron, O. The unit, composed of approximately 90 men, including 25 officers, recently spent their two-week cruise at Guantanamo Bay naval air station.

Working with destroyers and submarines, the men of ZP 651 got much invaluable experience. One day, one of the blimp crews really "got hot." In a matter of minutes they located an "enemy" sub with their sonar and radar units, dropped yellow dye markers and notified their team's two destroyers.

Within seconds the destroyers scored "direct" hits on the submerged submarine. This action usually takes from three to four hours.

U. S. Jury Indicts Cleveland Couple

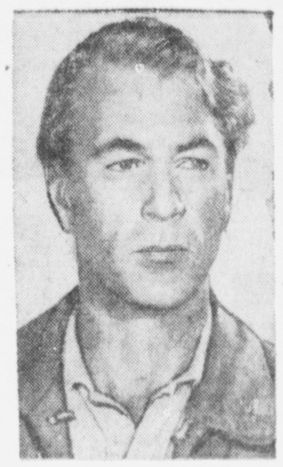

CLEVELAND (AP) - A federal grand jury here Wednesday indicted Marie Reed Haug and Fred Haug, her husband, for falsely denying membership in the Communist party.

The denials were made in affidavits filed with the National Labor Relations Board under the Labor-Management Relations Act.

The indictment charges that Mrs. Haug, formerly secretary-treasurer of District 7 of the Independent United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America made the alleged false denials in 1952.

It alleged that Fred Haug, formerly president of Local 715 of the Independent International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, "made some false denials in an affidavit executed Jan. 10, 1952."

U. A. Johnson, former deputy U. S. Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs, has four children and each was born in a different city: Washington, Tokyo, Seoul, and Rio de Janerio.

COMING SUNDAY — "Friendly Persuasion" stars Gary Cooper in a role which has been compared to the one he played in "High Noon". Also featured is a new star, Anthony Perkins, hailed as the most exciting new star since the late James Dean. Pat Boone sings the popular title song. The picture, produced by Allied Artists in color by De-Luxe, starts Sunday at the Fayette Theatre.

Home, Sweet Home

CAVE CITY, Ky. (AP) — When Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Ferguson's parakeet took it on the lam, they chased him from tree to tree for two days. Finally, Ferguson hoisted the bird's cage to the top of a tree and the budgie hopped inside.

Anti-Integration Laws Requested

NASHVILLE (AP) — Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee Wednesday recommended a "moderate" approach to the problem of racial segregation, but he asked the state legislature for new laws to prevent integration in public schools.

Clement, a lay preacher in the Methodist church, making his first public stand on the issue, declared: "I, for one, will not be a party to any action which would imperil or endanger the continued existence of our public schools."

The new acts which he asked would allow local school boards to maintain separate schools for white and Negro children whose parents wish segregated schools, permit the school boards to assign pupils on grounds of "sociological, geographical, physical, psychological, fiscal, education and any other factors," and authorize transfer of pupils.

Within seconds the destroyers scored "direct" hits on the submerged submarine. This action usually takes from three to four hours.

U. S. Jury Indicts Cleveland Couple

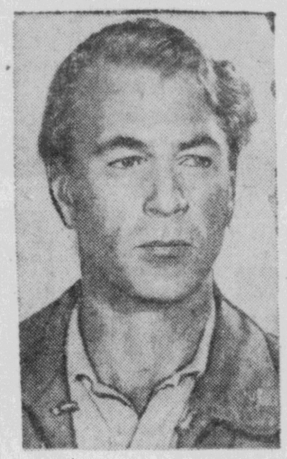

CLEVELAND (AP) - A federal grand jury here Wednesday indicted Marie Reed Haug and Fred Haug, her husband, for falsely denying membership in the Communist party.

The denials were made in affidavits filed with the National Labor Relations Board under the Labor-Management Relations Act.

The indictment charges that Mrs. Haug, formerly secretary-treasurer of District 7 of the Independent United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America made the alleged false denials in 1952.

It alleged that Fred Haug, formerly president of Local 715 of the Independent International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, "made some false denials in an affidavit executed Jan. 10, 1952."

U. A. Johnson, former deputy U. S. Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs, has four children and each was born in a different city: Washington, Tokyo, Seoul, and Rio de Janerio.

COMING SUNDAY — "Friendly Persuasion" stars Gary Cooper in a role which has been compared to the one he played in "High Noon". Also featured is a new star, Anthony Perkins, hailed as the most exciting new star since the late James Dean. Pat Boone sings the popular title song. The picture, produced by Allied Artists in color by De-Luxe, starts Sunday at the Fayette Theatre.

Home, Sweet Home

CAVE CITY, Ky. (AP) — When Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Ferguson's parakeet took it on the lam, they chased him from tree to tree for two days. Finally, Ferguson hoisted the bird's cage to the top of a tree and the budgie hopped inside.

Anti-Integration Laws Requested

NASHVILLE (AP) — Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee Wednesday recommended a "moderate" approach to the problem of racial segregation, but he asked the state legislature for new laws to prevent integration in public schools.

Clement, a lay preacher in the Methodist church, making his first public stand on the issue, declared: "I, for one, will not be a party to any action which would imperil or endanger the continued existence of our public schools."

The new acts which he asked would allow local school boards to maintain separate schools for white and Negro children whose parents wish segregated schools, permit the school boards to assign pupils on grounds of "sociological, geographical, physical, psychological, fiscal, education and any other factors," and authorize transfer of pupils.

Town's Mayor Serves Weekends Exclusively

SILVERSTREET, S.C. (AP)—Silverstreet's population of about 150 apparently feels the community is small enough to get along with a "weekend" mayor.

Henry M. Havird fills the office only on Saturdays and Sundays when he stays at the old family home. The rest of the time he lives 65 miles away in Columbia where he holds a position with the South Carolina Employment Security Commission.

Top Business Leaders See Good for '57

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Greenwich, Conn., isn't big as cities go in the United States. But if the people of Greenwich want an educated guess on what's in store for the nation this year, they might ask their neighbors—because in this New York suburb lives a collection of some of the biggest wheels in U. S. industry.

It's a concentration of which the residents of the area are proud. So the Greenwich Time polled 36 residents, all top brass among the nation's business leaders. And the newspaper tells us today that 29 of them expect this year to be as good or better than last year.

Of the 29, three are certain 1957 will top all previous years. Four others are confident it will beat last year. Nine think it will run neck and neck with 1956. And 13 just say it will be a good year for business.

Eugene Holman, chairman of the world's biggest oil company, Jersey St.ndard, sees good times ahead with the domestic oil industry likely to top 1956's record setting demand by 4 per cent.

"One of the best business years on record," is how Thomas J. Watson Jr., president of International Business Machines, sees 1957—and beyond that, "our nation will enjoy continued prosperity for some time to come."

Theodore G. Montague, chairman of the Borden Co., sights "a generally bright outlook for most industries."

"The index of over-all industrial activity should continue at a high level," says Frank Pace, Jr., executive vice president of General Dynamics, who expects that "military expenditures should rise, particularly for aircraft, electronics, guided missiles and ships."

J. Whitney Peterson, president of U. S. Tobacco, however, says "1957 will hardly start off with anything very spectacular to recommend it for an improvement of being very different from 1956."

Factors of strength listed by Alfred L. Hammell, president of Railway Express Agency, include "an even higher general purchasing power than in 1956, a rate of construction activity both industrial and governmental which will be running above 1956 levels with a resultant high rate of steel production." This should make 1957 "as good or possibly better" than 1956.

Plans Expansion

CANTON (AP) — Republic Steel Corp. plans to expand production capacity of its kitchen cabinet plant here by one-third.

Paul L. Bruhn, manager of the Berger Division, said this will be the second major increase in capacity in two years at Berger Plant No. 2, where Republic produces its Republic Steel kitchens. An expansion early in 1955 increased capacity by more than 30 per cent.

Ohio Democrats Get Assignments

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats completed their House committee assignments Wednesday and are now awaiting full House approval, regarded as a formality.

Ohio representatives got these assignments:

Appropriations: Kirwan.

Agriculture: Polk

Foreign Affairs: Hays.

House Administration: Hays

Judiciary: Feighan.

Merchant Marine and Fisheries: Ashley.

Other Democratic assignments were announced at an earlier session. Republican House assignments have yet to be announced.

A-Plant Studied For Northern Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Vanik (D - Ohio) suggested Wednesday that a private atomic plant in Southern Michigan might "be of even greater concern to the population centers of northern Ohio than to the nearby urban populations of Detroit and Toledo."

Vanik referred to the application of a utility combine to operate an atomic power plant at Lagoona Beach, Mich. He stated his views in a letter to Chairman Durham (D-N. C.) of the join' Atomic Energy Committee, asking a congressional investigation.

The CIO-AFL has protested that the plant, as it is now planned, would not be safe.

Should Alaska be admitted to the Union, the roof of the United States will be Mount McKinley's 20,320 feet above the sea. Present record is held by Mount Shitney in the state of Washington at 14,495 feet.

SWEDISH ACTRESS Karin Cederlund (above) and her 5-year-old daughter have been reported missing in Egypt since mid-November. They left Sweden for Cairo Oct. 23, and she was to have married an Egyptian architect, Feyerz Wasef. Two weeks after arriving she cabled her mother that everything was "O.K." but nothing has been heard since. She worked for an American film company in Stockholm. (International)

Ike's Inauguration To Be 'Biggest Ever'

By FRANKLIN JOHNSON
(Central Press Association)

WASHINGTON — The second Eisenhower inaugural on Jan. 21 is shaping up as the hugest spectacle of its kind in history and the biggest re-enactment of what foreign observers look upon as another completely unique American political drama.

It's "something of a cross between a British coronation and the triumphs staged by conquering Roman proconsuls."

President and Mrs. Eisenhower emphatically do not wish it to be that way, but ironically, their aversion for the mad congestion that marked the two inauguration balls held in 1952 is contributing to it, because this time there will be four to handle the throng, all to be attended personally sometime during the evening by the President and Vice President and their wives.

* * *

IT IS the ball which seems to set the standard of the pomp and circumstance surrounding the induction of a president, since the journey up Pennsylvania Avenue and back at the head of the inauguration parade between block after block of specially constructed grandstands on the street and sidewalks, and the actual swearing-in on the Capitol Plaza, are more or less uniform every four years.

James and Dolly Madison held the first ball, and Woodrow Wilson halted the series under the lowering clouds of World War I, only for it to be resumed by Harding's "return to normalcy."

Strictly speaking, there is no public sale of ball ducats; just a mammoth "invitation list" of people privileged to pay $30 a couple or $500 a box, up from $24 and $300 respectively for 1952.

* * *

THIS WILL BE history's most expensive inauguration, costing well over a million dollars, but taxpayers can sigh in relief that they actually make money. Eisenhower 1953 supporters had $10,000 holding over from the Truman celebration in 1949, and have close to $15,000 as a nest egg for this one.

You pay for everything from the $5 for a seat in the grandstands along the parade route, to the purchase price of special bronze and silver medals bearing a likeness of President Eisenhower and the inevitable souvenir programs.

The ceremony itself will take about half an hour on the specially-constructed stands which take three months to build and a month to tear down. The contractor, James R. Skinker, has a virtual monopoly on the $133,000 layout since he owns the Grecian columns that have adorned the stand since Harding took the oath. He is using a million board feet of mixed lumber.

* * *

GEORGE WASHINGTON started it all with an outdoor ceremony in New York, after which he went indoors for his second inaugural four years later. Jefferson, who strode to the Capitol on foot from his boarding house, was the first sworn in here. With a few exceptions, the Presidents since Andrew Jackson in 1828 have taken the oath outdoors on the Capitol steps. The Bible to be used this time was used by Washington.

* * *

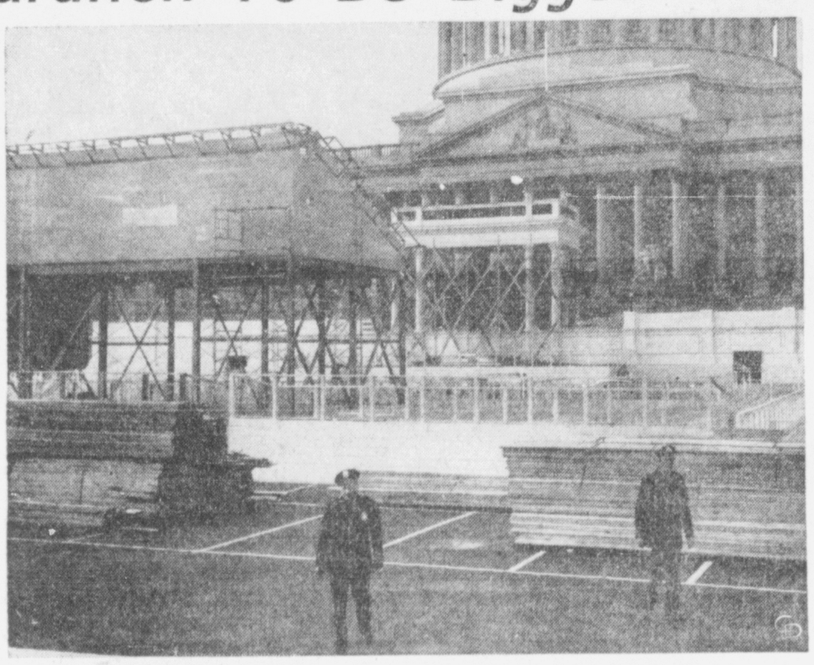

HOW TO GET A SOUVENIR

You can get in on the big inaugural celebration by mail and receive a stamp collector's item as a souvenir by sending a stamped envelope addressed to yourself in another envelope addressed to "Postmaster, Washington 13, D. C." The enclosed envelope will return in a few weeks as a cachet stamped, "Inauguration Day, Jan. 21."

It is an amusing sidelight that officially it is the Democrats who throw the big party for the Republicans this time, since they control the congressional committees in charge.

Actual spadework, however, is in charge of Republican Washingtonians, headed by banker Robert V. Fleming, finance chairman of the Republican state central committee for the District of Columbia, and seven vice-chairmen.

THEY HAVE LEFT few stones unturned, including a housing committee to help people find overnight accommodations, and a bird control committee to oust the pesky starlings from theirs by spraying the trees en route.

President Eisenhower will take a double oath, because for the fifth time in history the Constitutionally-ordained inaugural day falls on Sunday. Following the lead of Hayes and Wilson, he will be sworn in privately on the Sabbath, in order to avoid any technicality of the nation being without a chief for a few hours.

Actually, since a presidential term ends at noon, it is fairly common for the nation to be without an occupant of the office for an hour or so.

Zachary Taylor simply put off taking the oath until a Monday, and it has caused consternation among historians ever since. Some authorities contend that the happenstance resulted in Sen. David Rice Atchison's holding office for one day under the then-existing laws of succession.

Atchison appears on some lists, including that of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, as the 12th president, making Eisenhower the 34th individual or the 35th president—however you figure those split Grover Cleveland terms—instead of the 33rd and 34th, as on most listings.

* * *

THIS IS the sixth inaugural since the Constitutional amendment shifting the date ot Jan. 20 instead of March 4. It was adopted between the first and second Franklin D. Roosevelt inaugurals, at the insistence of the late Sen. George W. Norris of Nebraska, who principally wanted to eliminate the long, troublesome "lame duck" session of Congress.

Elaborate weather statistics have been cited to show that Washington outdoors is more hospitable at this season than in March, anyway. William Henry Harrison caught his death of cold at his own inauguration, and died only a month later.

Mrs. Millard Fillmore, in 1853, caught cold at the inauguration of her husband's successor, Franklin Pierce, and died of pneumonia. Taft's inauguration in 1909 was forced indoors by a pre-spring blizzard. Jan. 20 has been fair most of the time, except for a driving rain that marred F. D. R.'s in 1937.

The Eisenhowers will start their big day by attending church in the morning, a tradition also begun by the James Madisons. It will be a long day afterward, consisting of the oath-taking at noon, followed by reviewing the parade on a special stand built in front of the White House, and the quadruple balls.

* * *

THIS YEAR' managers hope to keep the parade within two hours by using the same device invoked for the 1952 inauguration—holding each state to one float and one marching unit, insofar as possible.

Abraham Lincoln (of all Presidents!) set something of a record in 1861, when a float bearing 34 little girls representing each of then existing states, paused, and he kissed each and every one.

President Eisenhower's solidest contribution to the whole affair will be his second inauguration address. Some of the greatest political utterances of the nation's history were inspired by the occasion, particularly the second addresses of Washington and Lincoln, and Franklin D. Roosevelt's first.

Chicago TV Again Refuses To Air Controversial Film

CHICAGO (AP)—Station WGN-TV has announced it will not reschedule the film, "Martin Luther," which was canceled during the Christmas holiday because of what the station called "emotional reaction."

A group of Protestant clerymen have contended the film was canceled because of "pressures" brought by the "Roman Catholic Church."

The station is "acting now in good faith in an effort to prevent further misunderstandings, ill will or controversies from being injected into the homes of the families we serve," he continued.

Quaal's remarks were made at a meeting of Protestant clerymen. Dr. John W. Harms, executive vice president of the Church Federation of Greater Chicago, urged WGN to reschedule the film saying, "The issue is freedom." He said the committee would press for recognition of "this basic American issue on the Chicago airways."

The film, based on the life of Martin Luther, who broke with the Roman Catholic Church in the 16th century and headed the German Protestant movement, was scheduled for a TV world premier on Dec. 19.

The picture was produced under sponsorship of the Lutheran Church. It was to have appeared on a weekly movie program paid for by a building company.

Quaal said at the time the showing was canceled that the action was taken because of the "emotional reaction" to the announcement the film was to be shown. He did not identify any source of the "emotional action." Roman Catholic chancery officials said they had made no protest over the proposed TV showing and had not urged their church members to do so.

Armco Chieftain Receives Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles R. Hook, chairman of the board of Armco Steel Corp., Middletown, Ohio, was honored Tuesday for his leadership in bringing the first group insurance plan to the steel industry 40 years ago.

Hook received a plaque from the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States.

It was in January, 1917, that Hook, then general superintendent of the steel firm, negotiated the pioneer insurance program with William J. Graham, then an Equitable vice president. The presentation was made by Graham, now a director of the insurance company.

Cadillac

Finally Believed His Eyes and Ears!

He has heard and read a great many wonderful things about this new 1957 Cadillac since it made its first appearance a few brief weeks ago—

—about its magnificent new luxury, for instance . . . its brilliant new power and responsiveness . . . its marvelous new handling ease . . . and its extraordinary new smoothness of ride.

And so, quite frankly, he began to wonder if it weren't all too good to be true. Could any motor car be as wonderful as this latest "car of cars" was reputed to be?

Well, he's decided to put his eyes and ears to the test today. And the verdict is unmistakable!

It's a joy just to lean back into those deep, soft cushions and look out over that graceful hood into the beckoning highway.

And what a revelation the car is to drive!

A hill in the offing? He just nudges the accelerator and the car sweeps up and over as effortlessly as if it were traveling the level road.

A stop light coming up? He presses his toe—ever so gently—on the broad braking pedal and comes to the smoothest, surest stop imaginable.

Yes, it's true what they say about this newest of Cadillacs. This is far and away the finest motor car ever to travel the world's highways.

* * * *

How about you? Have you heard the wonderful things they're saying about the 1957 Cadillac?

Well, the proof is in the driving—and the facts about Cadillac have never been more convincing.

Change in Hours Announced for Public Library

Plans Are Made For Rebuilding New Entrance

The Carnegie Public Library is now open from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. Monday through Saturday— except Thursday when it closes at noon. The Board of Trustees has agreed to a return to these hours.

Mrs. Florence Cook, acting librarian, reported at the annual meeting of the board, that total circulation in 1956 totaled to 70,728, an increase of 4,000 over 1955. In the city, 42,554 books were borrowed, and 28,174 in county schools and stations.

Addition of 1,156 new volumes during the year brought the total collection to 28,001, Mrs. Cook said.

* * *

THE BOARD voted to set aside receipts from the state public employes' pension fund of Miss Mary Elizabeth Johnson, which named the library as beneficiary and so far amounts to $391.42, as a memorial to Miss Johnson. Mrs. Cook is seeking a picture of Miss Johnson for use in connection with the memorial.

Anticipating the cost of building a new entrance for the library building, trustees set aside $5,900 of the year - end operating balance of $13,219 as a building and repair fund. Together with $4,000 earmarked for building in the estimated 1957 county library appropriation of $22,000, Mrs. Cook said, this will meet contractors' estimates and enable work on the improvement to begin about March.

Receipts from the county's "intangible tax" on dividends from stocks and bonds— on which, by state law, libraries have top priority— last year amounted to $14,500, the librarian reported. Other receipts brought the total to $17,419.

Expenditures amounted to $13,806, she said, of which $8,089 was the payroll. $2,348 went for reading stock, and $1,500 for building maintenance.

* * *

American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Doris K. Bailey, Busy Bee Garden Club, Miss Amy V. Conn estate, Daughters of American Revolution, Mrs. Max Dice, Mrs. Carrie Deere, Mrs. Arthur Engle, Fayette County Agricultural Extension Service, Fayette County Cancer Society, Mrs. Hester Gidding, Miss Helen Glascock, First Church of Christ Scientist, and Mr. Frank R. Harris.

Also from Mrs. Louise Heath, Mrs. J. M. Herbert, Miss Sue Hill, Mrs. Floy Ferguson, Mrs. Ed Fite, Mr. Siegel Mossbarger, Mrs. Mildred Mitman, New Martinsburg WCTU, Mrs. O. L. Ohnstad, Mrs. Sadie Pollard estate, Miss Lois Robison, Kenneth Sever, Seventh Day Adventist Church, Mrs. W. A. Smith, Washington Garden Club and Emil Wilson estate.

House of Prayer Schedules Movie

The Rev. Henry Leeth, in making the announcement, described it as "the greatest miracle mission film ever produced." He added that it is in color and with sound and runs for a little less than an hour. The picture was made on the island of Java.

Artie Porter, 20, a minor, has filed suit for divorce from David Porter, South Solon, on grounds of gross neglect and abandonment. The suit was filed by her mother, Helen Dunn, Jeffersonville. They were married June 30, 1956, at Liberty, Ind.

Chicago Woman Dies at Age 125

She died at a convalescent home where she resided for the last six years.

Records at the home say she was born in Huntsboro, N. C., Nov. 25, 1831.

Building Permit Applicants Face Penalty for Tardiness

If you have made application for a building permit and have not yet picked it up at the city auditor's office, you have 30 days to do so without paying a penalty.

City Council Wednesday night approved an ordinance, effective Feb. 8, which provides an extra charge of 10 per cent of the cost of the permit in those cases where applicants fail to call for them during the 30-day grace period.

The penalty will be assessed for each additional month or fraction of a month they remain unclaimed. The action was taken after City Auditor Marie Melvin told Council that building permits often were not picked up for months after application had been made.

Actually, the permits should be in the builders' hands before construction work is started.

* * *

IN ANOTHER ordinance Council vacated Fountain Ave., an unused, grass-grown street between Washington Ave. and Yeoman St., 165 feet west of Elm St. Abutting property owners had petitioned the action which had the approval of the city manager and the City Planning Commission.

Council indicated it would welcome annexation of a .33 acre plot in Union Township, part of a 1.22-acre tract at 921-925 Dayton Ave. owned by Harold Sheridan, 713 Clinton Ave. Sheridan, who requested the annexation, will be advised by letter to proceed with the necessary steps.

Rev. Delbert A. Hough said music will be provided each night by the Goings Sisters of Springfield.

'Love' Movement Slated by Negroes

ATLANTA (AP)—Some 100 Negro ministers have agreed to participate in a bold move aimed at ending segregation on buses in Atlanta, at 500,000 the largest city yet attacked by the integrationists.

Termed "the love, law and liberation movement," participants were committed to "complete nonviolence in word and action, observing the ordinary rules of courtesy and good behavior."

Change in Hours Announced for Public Library

Plans Are Made For Rebuilding New Entrance

The Carnegie Public Library is now open from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. Monday through Saturday— except Thursday when it closes at noon. The Board of Trustees has agreed to a return to these hours.

Mrs. Florence Cook, acting librarian, reported at the annual meeting of the board, that total circulation in 1956 totaled to 70,728, an increase of 4,000 over 1955. In the city, 42,554 books were borrowed, and 28,174 in county schools and stations.

Addition of 1,156 new volumes during the year brought the total collection to 28,001, Mrs. Cook said.

* * *

THE BOARD voted to set aside receipts from the state public employes' pension fund of Miss Mary Elizabeth Johnson, which named the library as beneficiary and so far amounts to $391.42, as a memorial to Miss Johnson. Mrs. Cook is seeking a picture of Miss Johnson for use in connection with the memorial.

Anticipating the cost of building a new entrance for the library building, trustees set aside $5,900 of the year - end operating balance of $13,219 as a building and repair fund. Together with $4,000 earmarked for building in the estimated 1957 county library appropriation of $22,000, Mrs. Cook said, this will meet contractors' estimates and enable work on the improvement to begin about March.

Receipts from the county's "intangible tax" on dividends from stocks and bonds— on which, by state law, libraries have top priority— last year amounted to $14,500, the librarian reported. Other receipts brought the total to $17,419.

Expenditures amounted to $13,806, she said, of which $8,089 was the payroll. $2,348 went for reading stock, and $1,500 for building maintenance.

* * *

American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Doris K. Bailey, Busy Bee Garden Club, Miss Amy V. Conn estate, Daughters of American Revolution, Mrs. Max Dice, Mrs. Carrie Deere, Mrs. Arthur Engle, Fayette County Agricultural Extension Service, Fayette County Cancer Society, Mrs. Hester Gidding, Miss Helen Glascock, First Church of Christ Scientist, and Mr. Frank R. Harris.

Also from Mrs. Louise Heath, Mrs. J. M. Herbert, Miss Sue Hill, Mrs. Floy Ferguson, Mrs. Ed Fite, Mr. Siegel Mossbarger, Mrs. Mildred Mitman, New Martinsburg WCTU, Mrs. O. L. Ohnstad, Mrs. Sadie Pollard estate, Miss Lois Robison, Kenneth Sever, Seventh Day Adventist Church, Mrs. W. A. Smith, Washington Garden Club and Emil Wilson estate.

House of Prayer Schedules Movie

The Rev. Henry Leeth, in making the announcement, described it as "the greatest miracle mission film ever produced." He added that it is in color and with sound and runs for a little less than an hour. The picture was made on the island of Java.

DIVORCE PETITIONS FILED

A suit for divorce from Donald Bock, Route 3, Sabina, has been filed in Common Pleas Court by Judy Bock, 20, a minor, through her mother. Dorothy Fox, 602 Rawlings St., on grounds of gross neglect. They were married last Oct. 31 at Richmond, Ind.

Artie Porter, 20, a minor, has filed suit for divorce from David Porter, South Solon, on grounds of gross neglect and abandonment. The suit was filed by her mother, Helen Dunn, Jeffersonville. They were married June 30, 1956, at Liberty, Ind.

Chicago Woman Dies at Age 125

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Annie Biggs Williams, a Negro, listed as 125 years old, died Monday.

She died at a convalescent home where she resided for the last six years.

Records at the home say she was born in Huntsboro, N. C., Nov. 25, 1831.

Building Permit Applicants Face Penalty for Tardiness

If you have made application for a building permit and have not yet picked it up at the city auditor's office, you have 30 days to do so without paying a penalty.

City Council Wednesday night approved an ordinance, effective Feb. 8, which provides an extra charge of 10 per cent of the cost of the permit in those cases where applicants fail to call for them during the 30-day grace period.

The penalty will be assessed for each additional month or fraction of a month they remain unclaimed. The action was taken after City Auditor Marie Melvin told Council that building permits often were not picked up for months after application had been made.

Actually, the permits should be in the builders' hands before construction work is started.

* * *

IN ANOTHER ordinance Council vacated Fountain Ave., an unused, grass-grown street between Washington Ave. and Yeoman St., 165 feet west of Elm St. Abutting property owners had petitioned the action which had the approval of the city manager and the City Planning Commission.

Council indicated it would welcome annexation of a .33 acre plot in Union Township, part of a 1.22-acre tract at 921-925 Dayton Ave. owned by Harold Sheridan, 713 Clinton Ave. Sheridan, who requested the annexation, will be advised by letter to proceed with the necessary steps.

Spokesmen for the Disabled American Veterans chapter, who requested permission for a carnival in the East St.-Hinde St. area in June were told to contact the Retail Merchants Assn. before proceeding with their plans.

Church of Nazarene Plans Revival Series

The Church of the Nazarene, 227 Lewis St., will hold revival meetings Jan. 16-27 at 7:30 each evening.

Rev. Delbert A. Hough said music will be provided each night by the Goings Sisters of Springfield.

'Love' Movement Slated by Negroes

ATLANTA (AP)—Some 100 Negro ministers have agreed to participate in a bold move aimed at ending segregation on buses in Atlanta, at 500,000 the largest city yet attacked by the integrationists.

Termed "the love, law and liberation movement," participants were committed to "complete nonviolence in word and action, observing the ordinary rules of courtesy and good behavior."

Arthritis Victim Is Fitted With New Metal Hip Joint

Dr. Judson D. Wilson performed the operation on Snyder, an arthritis victim since boyhood and a virtual invalid for the last three years.

The device which replaces Snyder's own left hip joint is a complete new ball-and-socket joint of metal developed by an Air Force veterinarian, Col. Henry A. Gorman.

Dr. Wilson reported that if Snyder's body reacts to the device successfully, it could be one of the greatest advances in bone surgery in 100 years. Surgeons thought the operation today might take three hours. It took only one hour and 40 minutes. They reported Snyder came through "in excellent condition," with no sign of shock.

Dr. Wilson said it would be "a period of months" before true success of the operation—the effectiveness of the new joint—can be accurately gauged

Dr. Wilson plans to perform the same operation on two more patients within the next few weeks. Physicians said many persons, suffering from arthritis and other crippling ailments, have asked to serve as "guinea pigs." He will stop at three operations, Dr. Wilson said, and then wait "a number of months" to see how successful the first three prove to be.

Snyder will wear a "boot cast" on his leg for two weeks until the muscles are healed, Dr. Wilson said, adding:

"Then we'll start him on physical therapy and rehabilitation. Of course we don't know how long it will be until he will be able to walk, since this is the first we've done with a full prosthesis (hip joint socket and head)."

Dr. Gorman, the Air Force veterinarian, had performed the operation successfully on 53 dogs. The single metal unit, which allows complete freedom of movement, is bolted to the pelvic bone with the ball at the end of a spike driven into the thigh bone marrow. Lubrication of the joint will be handled by body fluids, Dr. Wilson said.

BOY, GIRL DIE AS FLAMES SWEEP OHIO HOME—Flames sweep a house near Canton, in which a brother and sister were burned to death and a man was severely burned. The victims were Sandra Ann Terry, 6, and her brother, Billy, 4. Haymaker French, 21, a neighbor, was burned.

Akron to Get New Telephone Setup

AKRON (AP)—By next fall Akron residents will be able to reach 10 million more telephones in the East and Midwest by direct long distance dialing, John A. Greene, president of Ohio Bell Telephone Co., reports.

Greene told 400 supervisory employes the company plans to spend $5,775,000 for expansion in the Akron district this year, about a quarter of a million dollars more than was spent in 1956.

Naval Base of Two Great Wars To Become Oil Depot

British Abandoning Scapa Flow

By FRANK WATSON
(Central Press Association)

To a generation of Americans intimately involved with such flaming spots as Pearl Harbor, Omaha beach and the Yalu River, the name of Scapa Flow may be a vaguely familiar one, but their parents will vividly remember it.

For the puzzled, Scapa Flow is a big British naval base that has anchored the British home fleets in two world wars. It is a roadstead of some 100 square miles in the land, between the Atlantic ocean and the North Sea.

Scapa Flow is back in the news because Britain now is closing down the huge base for reasons of economy. Only an oil depot will remain in use there. That action is somewhat akin to dropping the curtain on an exciting play—one that has been running since the ninth century.

Scapa Flow reached her zenith in naval importance during World War I with the scuttling of the German fleet there and, in the second World War, with the sinking of HMS Royal Oak by a German submarine which crept into the base under protection of night. The Royal Oak was one of the biggest men-of-war of her time. When she went down, 833 men went with her.

* * *

BACK in the Ninth and Tenth Centuries, widely-roaming Norsemen swept across the North Sea from their Scandinavian homeland and set up based in the Orkneys, an anchorage vast enough to shelter all of the present-day navies of the world. From the Orkneys, these raiders from the north penetrated and overran much of what now is Scotland, Ireland and England.

British Adm. John Jellicoe chose Scapa Flow as the chief naval base of the Grand Fleet in World War I and it was based there through the Battle of Jutland. Five times German U-boats tried to pierce the defenses of Scapa Flow — each time they failed.

Apart from the defenses themselves, the strong currents across the entrance made such a penetration a risky attempt. In addition, the British blocked most of the channel entrances by sinking old ships in them.

At the end of the war, American sailors berthed at Kirkwall, near the Flow, had the perilous duty of clearing away some 70,000 Allied mines stretched across the North Sea between Norway and the Orkneys. These same sailors witnessed a dramatic scene on June 21, 1919, when German crews interned in Scapa Flow scuttled 74 vessels of their own captive fleet as a final gesture of desperation and defiance.

* * *

IN SPITE of protests of Britain's naval representatives, her Allies would not agree to her taking over the German vessels and, as a result, the ships were interned, not surrendered.

This meant that the vessels kept their German officers and crews. Since they were under only distant observation, the crews were able to open the underwater valves simultaneously and sink the ships. Later, the British did salvage some of them.

Twenty years after the scuttling of the German ships, the tide turned — so to speak — and a German submarine penetrated Scapa Flow and executed one of the most daring exploits in naval annals. She sank the mighty dreadnaught, the Royal Oak.

That sinking was carried out through the aid of a German spy, who amazingly enough, had been living for 16 years beside the harbor for this one purpose. Under a blanket of darkness, the German U-boat slipped in and torpedoed the Royal Oak as she lay at anchor. One of the biggest warships of her day, the Royal Oak had taken part in the battle action off Jutland.

Following the loss of the Royal Oak, Britain abandoned the base until the entrance used by that German raider had been blocked off with cement and stone. Scapa Flow later drifted back into the obscurity of peace time when the Atlantic fleet visited it occasionally and the only work going on was salvage operations.

The Orkneys, which close in Scapa Flow from the sea, are inhospitable to trees and shrubs and briny winds range over the area from the Atlantic to the west.

Even though the islands take on a forbidding look to outsiders, the inhabitants have made their home one of the richest agricultural counties in all of Britain.

Yet, many of the islanders will miss the ships and their sailors and the activities that surround a naval base.

However, the men of the fleet will miss Scapa Flow most of all.

NOW SERVING a 10-year prison sentence, Orville E. Hodge, former Illinois state auditor, enters the Federal building in Chicago to be questioned by Federal Judge John P. Barnes, who wants to know why the state has been able to recover only $25,000 of the $2,500,000 that disappeared while Hodge was auditor. (International)

'Curveaway' Jacket Offered At Spring Fashion Showing

Editor's Note: Following is another in a series of articles telling about the new women's fashions for spring.

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — The cutaway jacket takes on feminine airs in the spring collection of Ben Zuckerman, maestro of tailored suits, shown today to some 250 fashion editors of newspapers throughout the country here for a concentrated briefing on what American women will wear this spring.

Zuckerman's cutaways, unlike their masculine counterparts, are brief, usually unfitted, and more aptly described as "curveaway." They are shown with slim skirts and coordinated blouses, often dotted, usually matched to the coat lining. And they often reveal handsome leather belts snugging in the skirt waistline.

This spring Zuckerman stars navy as his top color, often going positively nautical with brass buttons and sailor collars. Next in preference are white tweeds with gold link belts, medallions and buttons. After that come a full range of grays, beige and pastel tones, some with belted and bloused jackets some with tunic skirts.

Alfreda-Visioni likes the silk suit for spring, showing it in many versions, all with soft, feminine touches and gently curving but unstrained lines. Skirts achieve walking ease by means of low-pinced back pleats, panels and peg-tops. A highlight is a lady-like little suit in burnt-beige raw silk with jewel buttons, slot-seam detail and pleasantly curved look at boson and hipline.

Jo Copeland, the all-American designer credited with inventing the cocktail suit, also goes in heavily for important and expensive suits this season.

I would like to take this opportunity to ANNOUNCE TO ALL MY FRIENDS AND PATRONS that I am now associated with Boyd Pontiac, as service manager, and want to invite all of you to visit me at my new location. Prompt and courteous service as usual. Will be looking for you.

Naval Base of Two Great Wars To Become Oil Depot

British Abandoning Scapa Flow

By FRANK WATSON
(Central Press Association)

To a generation of Americans intimately involved with such flaming spots as Pearl Harbor, Omaha beach and the Yalu River, the name of Scapa Flow may be a vaguely familiar one, but their parents will vividly remember it.

For the puzzled, Scapa Flow is a big British naval base that has anchored the British home fleets in two world wars. It is a roadstead of some 100 square miles in the land, between the Atlantic ocean and the North Sea.

Construction Hits New High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans spent a record $44¼ billion on construction in 1956, setting a new money peak for the 10th successive year.

The report was made today by the Commerce and Labor departments, which have predicted construction outlay will soar to a $45½ billion peak in 1957.

In 1955 expenditures totaled just under $43 billion—$30½ billion for private construction and $12½ billion in public building.

The physical volume of new building in 1956 was 2 per cent below the unprecedented 1955 level. This indicated that construction dollars bought less, with costs being somewhat higher than in 1955.

Industrial construction passed the $3 billion mark for the first time in history, but home building investment declined by 10 per cent, from $15 billion to $13½ billion.

The government report said housing mortgage demands had to compete increasingly in 1956 "with the heavy demands for funds from many other sectors of the economy."

* * *

"EVEN SO," the report said, "the $13½ billion of new private housing put in place in 1956 was second only to the extraordinary volume of the previous year."

Private construction expenditures combined totaled $30.8 billion in 1956, only a little above the record 1955 figure. But public construction rose 8 per cent to a new high of $13.4 billion.

Ohio Solon Gains Added Applause

UTICA, N. Y. (AP) — Charles A. King III, managing editor of the Utica Observer-Dispatch and president of the New York State Society of Newspaper Editors, has sent a telegram praising Rep. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) for walking out of a secret hearing on the Eisenhower Mid-East policy.

"Too many public officials, from municipal to federal government," King's message said, "use questionable tactics to justify doing the public's business behind closed doors. Government by secrecy cannot be tolerated."

Earlier, a telegram of congratulation was sent to Hays by V.M. Newton Jr., managing editor of the Tampa Tribune and chairman of the freedom of information committee of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity with 22,000 members.

"Secrecy has no part in free American government," it said.

White House Bans Public from Rites

WASHINGTON (AP) — Newsmen, photographers, officials and diplomats have been barred by the White House from admission to the actual swearing-in of President Eisenhower on Sunday, Jan. 20.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty reversed his earlier announcement that the event, one day ahead of the ceremonial oath-taking, would be open to all news media, including live television.

"The thing just got out of control," Hagerty claimed.

FLAMES LEAP from the roof of the three-story Washington Street Elementary school in Riverside, N. J., as firemen battle to keep the fire from spreading to the adjoining Riverside High school. Damage was estimated at $800,000 and 1,250 students got a vacation. (International Soundphoto)

Willoughby Schools Get 'Bomb' Threat

WILLOUGHBY (AP) — Telephoned "bomb" warnings caused evacuation of about 1,600 pupils from Willoughby and Wickliffe High Schools Wednesday while firemen searched the buildings.

No bombs were found.

A man telephoned a girl switchboard operator about 8 a. m. and said "you are going to be bombed at 9:30 a. m." Draps said a man called the Wickliffe City Hall and told a secretary "there is a bomb in the high school."

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

"EVEN SO," the report said, "the $13½ billion of new private housing put in place in 1956 was second only to the extraordinary volume of the previous year."

Private construction expenditures combined totaled $30.8 billion in 1956, only a little above the record 1955 figure. But public construction rose 8 per cent to a new high of $13.4 billion.

Ohio Solon Gains Added Applause

UTICA, N. Y. (AP) — Charles A. King III, managing editor of the Utica Observer-Dispatch and president of the New York State Society of Newspaper Editors, has sent a telegram praising Rep. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) for walking out of a secret hearing on the Eisenhower Mid-East policy.

"Too many public officials, from municipal to federal government," King's message said, "use questionable tactics to justify doing the public's business behind closed doors. Government by secrecy cannot be tolerated."

Earlier, a telegram of congratulation was sent to Hays by V.M. Newton Jr., managing editor of the Tampa Tribune and chairman of the freedom of information committee of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity with 22,000 members.

"Secrecy has no part in free American government," it said.

White House Bans Public from Rites

WASHINGTON (AP) — Newsmen, photographers, officials and diplomats have been barred by the White House from admission to the actual swearing-in of President Eisenhower on Sunday, Jan. 20.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty reversed his earlier announcement that the event, one day ahead of the ceremonial oath-taking, would be open to all news media, including live television.

"The thing just got out of control," Hagerty claimed.

FLAMES LEAP from the roof of the three-story Washington Street Elementary school in Riverside, N. J., as firemen battle to keep the fire from spreading to the adjoining Riverside High school. Damage was estimated at $800,000 and 1,250 students got a vacation. (International Soundphoto)

Willoughby Schools Get 'Bomb' Threat

WILLOUGHBY (AP) — Telephoned "bomb" warnings caused evacuation of about 1,600 pupils from Willoughby and Wickliffe High Schools Wednesday while firemen searched the buildings.

No bombs were found.

A man telephoned a girl switchboard operator about 8 a. m. and said "you are going to be bombed at 9:30 a. m." Draps said a man called the Wickliffe City Hall and told a secretary "there is a bomb in the high school."

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband works nights and our evening dinner is the only family meal we have together with the children at the table. This seems like a good time to discuss the happenings of the day, and to hear from the children what they did in school, etc.

But it almost never fails that just as we sit down, Mack's mother walks in; and without even pausing to say "Hello," she launches into a detailed account of her day—from the moment she got out of bed that morning. She does sales work and we have to hear about each and every customer.

Occasionally the children want to speak about something, and I have to make them be quiet—and I know they've left lots unsaid that seemed important to them. I don't mind Mrs. J. eating with us once in a while; and I realize that she likes to talk things over with someone. But I don't think that our dinner hour is the proper time.

She lives alone and comes and goes as she pleases, and I think she could as well drop in on us after dinner. The situation upsets me so much at times that I am cross with Mack and the children; and I think meal time should be happier times.

E. B.

DEAR E. B.: This is indeed a serious problem and something should be done about it, to ensure your household a relaxed regime of fully respected family privacy at the dinner hour—so that parents and children may become better known to each other.

Men and women of only the slightest social training seem to "feel" in their bones, without being told, that you are out of bounds, if you show up at other people's meals, without specific invitation. And in cases where certain solitary individuals are compulsively determined to be "among friends," at whatever costs to common decency, their awkward or brassy or breezy drive to "carry it off" reveals their deep-down sense of discomfort about what they are doing.

And I think this explains your mother-in-law's highpowered entrance and torrential flow of gab, as she appears unbidden at your dinner hour. She knows she's violating the rules of right action. And so she starts talking and keeps on talking, to throw a "smoke screen" of sorts around her aggression; and to drown out the opposition—i.e., the emotional resistance you can't help showing; and the mixed feelings and misgivings that doubtless flicker in your husband's face: caught, as he is, between two fires.

If your husband can't see the merits of this situation through his own eyes, without coaching from you, it means actually that he doesn't want to face the problem. He hasn't the courage (as yet) to take a stand against mama's confident assumption that his marriage may be treated as a nursery game, to be invaded at her convenience. Which makes it really tough for you and the children.

It looks as if you'll have to learn how to be mistress of the situation. By which I mean, develop confidence and clarity in knowing wherein a man's mother should defer to his wife—and there draw the line, without cringing. For help in this, read Dr. Edward A. Strecker's new book "Their Mothers' Daughters" (Lippincott) written in collaboration with Dr. Vincent Lathbury.

'Soft Touch' Is New Theme In Women's Spring Fashions

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—It's the "soft touch" for spring, visiting fashion editors learned today, attending sessions of the New York Dress Institute's 28th National Press Week.

Clothes have a new gentleness about them, with many devices used to soften and ease the predominant slender silhouette. The new suits and dresses allow freedom of movement, follow, but do not bind, the natural lines of the body and are designed for comfort as well as flattery.

Pauline Trigere, an Americanized Parisian with a French flair for style, uses peplums, tunics and capes to break the uncompromising lines of the straight silhouette. One of her devices is a double peplum which she calls "Tu-Tu" and which does suggest the perky skirt of the ballerina.

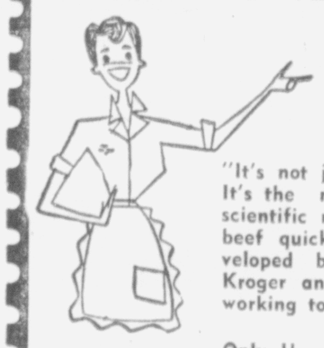

Trigere uses dots and dashes as the theme of her spring collection, heading the program with a line of Morse code and highlighting a series of outfits in bold polka dots and stripes.

Oleg Cassini, who always has believed that the feminine figure provides its own best lines, announces at the outset of this collection that the clothes are all easy to wear, and shows a series of highly flattering fashions with slim midriffs, casually bloused and softened bodices and slender skirts eased with pleats, darts and peg-top lines.

Telephone Company Warns Strikers To Return Soon or Lose Their Jobs

COLUMBUS (AP) — Officials of Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. have sent a letter to about 600 striking Communication Workers of America members in 24 Ohio counties, warning them they may be replaced unless they return to work. A union representative called it "a propaganda letter."

No time limit was set for the strikers to return, but a company public relations man said if the workers "still indicate by a week from today they intend to continue the strike, the replacement program will begin."

The letter sums up the history of the negotiations that have taken place since the CWA went on strike after a one-year union-company contract expired July 15, 1956—181 days ago.

Signed by Frank A. Lennberg, director of industrial relations for Ohio Consolidated, the letter says that, because the union has rejected the company's "final offer," further bargaining sessions with federal mediators "could serve no apparent useful service."

"In the meantime," Lennberg wrote, "the operations of the company must and will continue. Failing to have the services of personnel who may be on strike, the company is left with no alternative but to actively pursue a program of engaging replacements to the extent that training of new personnel can be accomplished."

One problem the company faces, Lennberg said, is that it has no way of knowing how many of the strikers have taken other jobs and have no intention of returning to Ohio Consolidated.

Richard Zachman, company public relations representative, said some replacements have already been hired, and that together with strikers who have returned to work, about 99 of the approximately 600 jobs vacated by strikers have been filled.

Lennberg's letter says the company "would prefer to operate our facilities with employes who are already trained and skilled in telephone work." Moreover, the letter states, "it is against our desires that eligible strikers would suffer loss of employment!"

The letter invites "those who feel that the strike has outlived its purpose and usefulness" to apply for reinstatement.

Notified of the letter, Frank Thernes district director for the CWA, said Ohio Consolidated "is aiming to break down the morale of the strikers." He termed it "a propaganda letter."

"It contains innuendos but no facts," Thernes said. "If it contained facts, it would have said 'we do not want the strikers back.' It doesn't say that, however, and it's apparent they do want the strikers back."

He said a survey of worker strikers last weekend indicated they are "100 per cent in favor of continuing the strike if the company doesn't come up with a better offer." Their feeling, Thernes said, is "we've waited this long, we can wait longer."

A company spokesman Wednesday night said that although the company letter says such sessions serve no purpose under the present impasse, "we will attend the Jan. 17 session and any other session the federal mediators invite us to. We will not initiate any bargaining sessions, however."

A four-hour bargaining session between the CWA and Ohio Consolidated Wednesday failed to produce any settlement.

Federal Mediator Edward J. Phillips said there was "absolutely no progress" made during Wednesday's session.

A dispute over a union shop clause is said to be the chief stumbling block. The old contract had a union shop clause, but the company has offered to replace it with a maintenance of membership provision under which a worker would not have to join the union but would have to remain in it if he did.

THE APPROPRIATED county total of $469,962.19 represents the three mills of county taxes which the commissioners have set up for what is known as the county's general fund.

It also includes the amount estimated to be received from the state for the first few months installment of motor vehicle and gas tax funds. It is estimated that this revolving maintenance and repair fund for county highway work will be approximately $200,000 to be received from the state during 1957. It comes in periodical installments.

This first M & R Fund installment, the appropriation records show, will be used to cover expenses in the county engineer's office including salaries and supplies to the amount of $22,840; for road maintenance and repair, $86,000; other expenses in connection with county highway work, $12,800.

In the general appropriation also was $6,630 for the Dog and Kennel Fund which does not come from taxes but is financed through sale of dog licenses.

THE LARGEST single portion of county income to support the county's general fund comes from real estate taxes from which the county's share is $181,605. Other sources of income for this fund as the county's share are: classified tax. $1,000; cigarette tax, $1,100; sales tax $35,000; fines and forfeitures through the courts, $500; other sources such as income from the county farm and amounts withheld by the county in district election costs, to a total of $43,400; also balances from unused past appropriations in county departments, $22,587.19.

All these sources made a total available to the county's general fund of $341,692.19, outside of the M & R money coming back to the county from the state from motor vehicle and gas taxes, as required by law.

Telephone Company Warns Strikers To Return Soon or Lose Their Jobs

COLUMBUS (AP) — Officials of Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. have sent a letter to about 600 striking Communication Workers of America members in 24 Ohio counties, warning them they may be replaced unless they return to work. A union representative called it "a propaganda letter."

No time limit was set for the strikers to return, but a company public relations man said if the workers "still indicate by a week from today they intend to continue the strike, the replacement program will begin."

The letter sums up the history of the negotiations that have taken place since the CWA went on strike after a one-year union-company contract expired July 15, 1956—181 days ago.

Signed by Frank A. Lennberg, director of industrial relations for Ohio Consolidated, the letter says that, because the union has rejected the company's "final offer," further bargaining sessions with federal mediators "could serve no apparent useful service."

"In the meantime," Lennberg wrote, "the operations of the company must and will continue. Failing to have the services of personnel who may be on strike, the company is left with no alternative but to actively pursue a program of engaging replacements to the extent that training of new personnel can be accomplished."

One problem the company faces, Lennberg said, is that it has no way of knowing how many of the strikers have taken other jobs and have no intention of returning to Ohio Consolidated.

Richard Zachman, company public relations representative, said some replacements have already been hired, and that together with strikers who have returned to work, about 99 of the approximately 600 jobs vacated by strikers have been filled.

Lennberg's letter says the company "would prefer to operate our facilities with employes who are already trained and skilled in telephone work." Moreover, the letter states, "it is against our desires that eligible strikers would suffer loss of employment."

The letter invites "those who feel that the strike has outlived its purpose and usefulness" to apply for reinstatement.

Notified of the letter, Frank Thernes, district director for the CWA, said Ohio Consolidated "is aiming to break down the morale of the strikers." He termed it "a propaganda letter."

"It contains innuendos but no facts," Thernes said. "If it contained facts, it would have said 'we do not want the strikers back.' It doesn't say that, however, and it's apparent they do want the strikers back."

He said a survey of worker strikers last weekend indicated they are "100 per cent in favor of continuing the strike if the company doesn't come up with a better offer." Their feeling, Thernes said, is "we've waited this long, we can wait longer."

A company spokesman Wednesday night said that although the company letter says such sessions serve no purpose under the present impasse, "we will attend the Jan. 17 session and any other session the federal mediators invite us to. We will not initiate any bargaining sessions, however."

A four-hour bargaining session between the CWA and Ohio Consolidated Wednesday failed to produce any settlement.

Federal Mediator Edward J. Phillips said there was "absolutely no progress" made during Wednesday's session.

A dispute over a union shop clause is said to be the chief stumbling block. The old contract had a union shop clause, but the company has offered to replace it with a maintenance of membership provision under which a worker would not have to join the union but would have to remain in it if he did.

Billiken '5' Joins Flip-Flop Basketball List

Once-Hot St. Louis Outfit Now Has Lost 4 of Last 5 Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

No doubt about it now, this is a "what's happened to..." college basketball season. Eddie Hickey's St. Louis Billikens are the latest.

With the exception of Kansas and North Carolina, each of the nation's touted powers has been doing flip-flops between good and average. Now it's the Billikens' turn.

The Missouri Valley Conference power that climbed as high as No. 4 in the national rankings a couple of weeks ago after spilling the likes of Kentucky, Louisville and TCU now has lost four of its last five and stands at a mediocre 7-5 for the season.

A conference foe, Wichita, prolonged the St. Louis skid Wednesday night with a 69-64 decision behind the 21-point scoring of Joe Stevens and the rebounding of Don Woodworth.

Louisville, No. 5 in this week's Associated Press poll, was the only high-ranking team in action Wednesday night in a predominantly Eastern program. The Cardinals had little trouble pushing their record to 9-2. With Bill Farragh flipping in 26 points, Louisville mauled Memphis State 93-71.

Play around the country also saw a pair of storybook comebacks by Penn and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia at Philly's Palestra, the first loss for ambitious Brandeis, and another victory for straight after dropping its first Syracuse, which has won seven two games.

Penn, winning its first Ivy League game in four starts, came from 20 points behind early in the second half to defeat Cornell 77-72, and St. Joseph's, down eight points with two minutes to play, managed to beat La Salle 97-85 in overtime in the twin thrillers at Philadelphia.

Brandeis, 10-0 after a "prestige" shipping of NYU at Madison Square Garden last Saturday, was beaten by St. Anselm's of Vermont, which got a 24-point performance from Frank O'Donnell.

Denison Cops Leadership in Conference

COLUMBUS (AP)—Denison swept into first place in the Ohio Conference and Xavier scored a victory over slightly favored University of Cincinnati in Ohio college basketball Wednesday night.

Denison had to squeeze out a 76-75 victory over the Mt. Union Purple Raiders in the final 44 seconds to move into first place.

At Cincinnati, the Xavier Musketeers came up with a second half 51-point scoring spree to bury their rivals from across town, 88-62. It was a tight game through most of the first half.

By contrast, Ohio Wesleyan's battling Bishops had to fight a tense battle until 90 seconds remained before pulling ahead to defeat the Wittenberg Lutherans, 83-78. Both teams now have 3-2 records in Ohio Conference.

Toledo, Bowling Green whipped the University of Toledo, 56-46, in a low scoring game to give BG its third victory in five Mid-American Conference games.

Ohio University lost its first Mid-American Conference game by a 77-71 score to Marshall in Huntington, W. Va. The loss bumped the Ohioans out of second place.

Milwaukee Star High on Redlegs

The voice came from Bill Bruton, fleet outfielder for the pennant-hungry Milwaukee Braves. "The Redlegs have tremendous power and a beautiful defense," Bruton. "All they need is a little more pitching."

Fayette Friends To See Cobb Get Race Honors

Eddie Cobb and Jerry The First

At least four fellow Fayette Countians, and probably more, will attend a banquet in Columbus Tuesday night when Eddie Cobb, 917 Washington Ave., is honored as Ohio's leading money - winning harness race horse driver of 1956.

Also to be honored at the banquet will be Joe Lighthill, 28, of Troy, whose horses won 121 races to make him the state's leading race - winning driver.

Plaques are to be presented to both Cobb and Lighthill.

Recognition is to be given to Ohio's Harness Horse of the Year for 1956 at the same time.

The banquet, in the Deshler-Hilton Hotel, will be the climax of the annual meeting of the Ohio district of the United States Trotting Assn.

* * *

ALL FOUR members of the speed committee of the Fayette County Fair Board have made reservations for the banquet but, since the Fair Board here is a member of the USTA, all 13 members of the board, are eligible to attend. Members of the speed committee are George A. Steen, chairman, John Sagar, Frank E. Ellis and McKinley Kirk, the nation's top amateur driver in 1955 and father-in-law of Cobb.

The annual meeting of the Ohio Fair Managers Assn. is to be held in Columbus at the same time the USTA is in session and all of the directors of the Fair here are planning to attend. How many of them, besides the speed committeemen, will have time to take in the USTA meeting is conjectural.

* * *

SELECTION of Ohio's Harness Horse of the Year will be announced at the banquet. Meanwhile, Fayette County horsemen are rooting for Flaming Arrow, 3-year-old pacing filly owned by the Vallery brothers of Waverly for two reasons: (1) She had a spectacular record on the tracks, including four new marks in one day, and (2) she has been trained and wintered at the Fairground track here by McKinley Kirk.

Racing honors are not new to Cobb. In 1949, he was one of the top drivers of the country; that was when Jerry the First was in his prime and breaking world records, the year he first won the $100,000 Golden Gate Pace in California.

Joe O'Brien Is Tops On Grand Circuit

COLUMBUS — For the third straight year Joe O'Brien of Shafter, Calif., has set the money and race-winning pace on trotting's Grand Circuit, so-called "major league of harness racing."

The U. S. Trotting Assn. reported today that O'Brien earned $242,787 on the Circuit in 1956 while winning 72 races. His margins were substantial over runnerup Billy Haughton of Brookville, N.Y., the nation's overall driving leader, who earned $168,199 and won 45 races.

O'Brien, 39 led a year ago with $219,000 and 58 wins. The money-winning record is still held by Delvin Miller of Meadowlands, Pa., who earned $259,933 in 1950.

O'Brien, who trains and drives for the S. A. Camp Farm, had four horses account for most of his money and victories. They were the trotters Scott Frost (Harness Horse of the Year) and Bond Hanover, and the pacers Diamond Hal and Adios Express.

The top 12 in each category were as follows:

MONEY WINNERS

1. Joe O'Brien	$242,787
2. William R. Haughton	168,199
3. Delvin Miller	159,333
4. John F. Simpson	150,689
5. Ralph Baldwin	121,761
6. Frank Ervin	111,436
7. Ned Bower	100,467
8. Wayne Smart	97,082
9. Adelbert Cameron	84,376
10. Earle B. Avery	75,702
11. Stanley Dancer	70,639
12. Eddie Cobb	61,281

RACE WINNERS

1. Joe O'Brien	72
2. William R. Haughton	45
3. Frank Ervin	35
4. Delvin Miller	32
5. John F. Simpson	30
6. Ralph Baldwin	24
7. Earle B. Avery	23

Lakers Finally Collect Victory

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Lakers retreated to home ground and finally won an NBA basketball game Wednesday night. Well, not all the way back to Minneapolis, but at least to Moorhead, Minn., where they turned back the Syracuse Nats, 93-86.

Tuesday night the Lakers and the Fort Wayne Pistons had taken the National Basketball Assn. "road show" to Winnipeg where Canadians saw their Minnesota neighbors take their sixth straight licking.

Wednesday night's victory didn't help the Lakers much in the western division race. They're still in last place.

Gold-Plated Plea by Giants Fails to Interest Robinson

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Jackie Robinson, standing firm in his decision to quit baseball despite a passionate plea by the New York Giants Wednesday night, said today he planned to submit his letter of voluntary retirement to the proper authorities not later than next Tuesday.

He reiterated to this writer that no amount of money and no amount of pressure could get him to change his mind. As disclosed by The Associated Press Wednesday, Robinson acknowledged he had a dinner parley at the home of Charles (Chub) Feeney, vice president of the Giants, who made a final desperate effort to induce Jackie to play just one more season.

"I did not give Feeney a flat 'no,'" said Robinson, "only because he asked me not to because he realized what my answer would be. He felt if I thought it over for a couple of days, there was the slightest possibility that I would change my mind.

"But I'm sure he knows that the case is hopeless. There is no doubt in my mind that when I give him the answer it will be no."

Robinson at first was reluctant to discuss the nature of the Giants' offer. Informed that the writer had learned the Giants were willing to offer him a one-year contract that would cost them $100,000, Jackie, in his characteristically honest fashion, dropped his evasiveness.

"Yes," he said. "Chub did mention that the club was willing to lay out $100,000. That, of course, would include my purchase price from Brooklyn ($30,000 and a player). There is no question in my mind that I'd be getting more than I ever made in Brooklyn. Yes, I'd say it would have come to around $50,000."

Jackie also admitted he was offered other inducements designed to bring him an income from the Giants after his playing days were over. It was learned from other sources that the Giants were willing to keep him on the payroll through 1959 even though they promised to give him his unconditional release at the end of the 1957 season.

All-Pro Grid Team Picked For Season

NEW YORK (AP)—The champion New York Giants, Chicago Bears and Detroit Lions today dominated the Associated Press National Football League all-star team, capturing 15 of the 22 berths.

Two players, offensive end Harlon Hill of the Bears and defensive tackle Roosevelt Grier of the Giants, were picked on all 28 ballots. Halfbacks Ollie Matson of Chicago Cardinals and Frank Gifford of the Giants missed unanimous selection by one vote.

The Giants had tackle Rosey Brown besides Gifford, on the attacking team and end Andy Robustelli and safety Emlen Tunnell along with Grier on the defensive squad.

Lions who made the first team were tackle Lou Creekmur and quarterback Bobby Layne on offense and linebacker Joe Schmidt, halfback Jack Christiansen and safety Yale Lary.

Folley Seeking To Fight Anyone

The Arizona boxer, although floored in the seventh round, scored his 28th victory in 31 starts here Wednesday night with a split decision over Bigger Wayne Bethea in their 10-round, nationally televised bout. Bethea now has a 13-8 record.

Missouri Football Chieftains Named

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Missouri Valley Conference has a new commissioner and the University of Missouri a new football coach.

These were the most important developments as sidelights to the NCAA's 51st annual convention Wednesday.

Shawnee Next, But Lions Are Looking Ahead

When Washington High School's eagers take on Lima Shawnee here Friday night, they'll have their hands full. But, says Coach Herb Russell, it's next week's South Central Ohio League game against Hillsboro that the Blue Lions will be pointing for.

"Hillsboro is our long thought this week," Russell said.

	WON	LOST
Washington	3	1
Circleville	2	1
Wilmington	2	1
Hillsboro	2	2
Greenfield	0	4

Circleville and Wilmington, frontrunners with the Blue Lions, collide Friday at Wilmington, and again Jan. 25 at Circleville. So, one of them is going to be tied with the locals for the league lead next week.

For the Russellmen, then, the Hillsboro battle could be crucial, putting them well out in front or dropping them back in the pack.

OSU Field Goal Accuracy Is High

CHICAGO (AP) — Ohio State, winner of its first two Big Ten games, tops the conference in field goal accuracy, official basketball statistics showed today.

The Buckeyes have hit 57 out of 127 shots for .445. Indiana, also winner of its first two starts, is far down the percentage list with .358 based on 57 baskets out of 159 attempts.

Illinois (1-1) is second on the percentage table with .419, having 70 hits in 167 attempts, the most shots any team has tried. Michigan State (0-2) is next with .415.

Tennessee Coach Gets Top Honors

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bowden Wyatt, personable young coach who led his Tennessee football team to an undefeated season and the Sugar Bowl Game, was honored today as "Coach of the Year" at a luncheon of the American Football Coaches Assn.

He has been one of the most sought-after coaches at this meeting, where a dozen or so major colleges are looking for new coaches, but he has rejected every offer because he is "at home" in his present spot.

Men's Bowling Tournament To Get under Way Feb. 3

The event is to be rolled on the Bowland lanes, CCC Highway, west, on two Sundays, just as it has been in the past. It will start Feb. 3 with the team competition and will come to an end the following Sunday, Feb. 10, with the singles and doubles.

Deadline for entries is Jan. 30. Last year's tournament was the biggest in the eight-year history of the event and indications are that this year's will have even more entries.

* * *

THE ENTRY FEE is $2.50 for each event; for the all-events it is $1. All of the fees are to be returned to the bowlers in the form of awards to the high scorers.

Last year's champions will be back this year to defend their laurels, Christman said.

The team title was won last year by Len's Wine Store with a net score of 3,032; the doubles event was won by Glenn Yerian and Bob Whitaker with a net of 1,294; the singles by Charles Hiney with 692 and the all-events honors were taken by Barney Ellars with a net of 1,878.

Tournament bowling is to use 75 per cent handicaps.

It would cost a do-it-yourself fan about $50 to make a single modern lead pencil if he bought raw materials and started from scratch.

of the New Car Season

Here, with just a judicious touch of foot to treadle, you get response so obediently instant, so liquid smooth, and so full range in "Drive"—that you've never in your life felt anything like it.

Know what else?

Folks like the way this new kind of performance comes dressed in sleek and glamorous styling that's fresher than tomorrow's news.

They like the new ease of handling, the new steadiness of cornering, the way stops are always on the level no matter how quickly you use the brakes.

Fact is, folks like everything about the newest Buick yet—the car that's fast becoming the biggest hit of the new car year—and you will, too. Come on in and try it this week. We'll have the red carpet out for you.

SAFETY REMINDER
In fast-moving traffic on turnpikes, parkways and freeways, keep a good distance from the car in front—and a little more for good measure. That way you, and every driver behind you, get a bigger margin of safety for braking action.

Billiken '5' Joins Flip-Flop Basketball List

Once-Hot St. Louis Outfit Now Has Lost 4 of Last 5 Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

No doubt about it now, this is a "what's happened to..." college basketball season. Eddie Hickey's St. Louis Billikens are the latest.

With the exception of Kansas and North Carolina, each of the nation's touted powers has been doing flip-flops between good and average. Now it's the Billikens' turn.

The Missouri Valley Conference power that climbed as high as No. 4 in the national rankings a couple of weeks ago after spilling the likes of Kentucky, Louisville and TCU now has lost four of its last five and stands at a mediocre 7-5 for the season.

A conference foe, Wichita, prolonged the St. Louis skid Wednesday night with a 69-64 decision behind the 21-point scoring of Joe Stevens and the rebounding of Don Woodworth.

Louisville, No. 5 in this week's Associated Press poll, was the only high-ranking team in action Wednesday night in a predominantly Eastern program. The Cardinals had little trouble pushing their record to 9-2. With Bill Darragh flipping in 26 points, Louisville mauled Memphis State 93-71.

Play around the country also saw a pair of storybook comebacks by Penn and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia at Philly's Palestra, the first loss for ambitious Brandeis, and another victory for straight after dropping its first Syracuse, which has won seven two games.

Penn, winning its first Ivy League game in four starts, came from 20 points behind early in the second half to defeat Cornell 77-72, and St. Joseph's, down eight points with two minutes to play, managed to beat La Salle 97-85 in overtime in the twin thrillers at Philadelphia.

Brandeis, 10-0 after a "prestige" whipping of NYU at Madison Square Garden last Saturday, was beaten by St. Anselm's of Vermont, which got a 24-point performance from Frank O'Donnell.

Denison Cops Leadership in Conference

COLUMBUS (AP)—Denison swept into first place in the Ohio Conference and Xavier scored a victory over slightly favored University of Cincinnati in Ohio college basketball Wednesday night.

Denison had to squeeze out a 76-75 victory over the Mt. Union Purple Raiders in the final 44 seconds to move into first place.

At Cincinnati, the Xavier Musketeers came up with a second half 51-point scoring spree to bury their rivals from across town, 88-62. It was a tight game through most of the first half.

By contrast, Ohio Wesleyan's battling Bishops had to fight a tense battle until 90 seconds remained before pulling ahead to defeat the Wittenberg Lutherans, 83-78. Both teams now have 3-2 records in the Ohio Conference.

Toledo, Bowling Green whipped the University of Toledo, 56-46, in a low scoring game to give BG its third victory in five Mid-American Conference games.

Ohio University lost its first Mid-American Conference game by a 77-71 score to Marshall in Huntington, W. Va. The loss bumped the Ohioans out of second place.

Milwaukee Star High on Redlegs

The praise came from Bill Bruton, fleet outfielder for the pennant-hungry Milwaukee Braves. "The Redlegs have tremendous power and a beautiful defense," Bruton. "All they need is a little more pitching."

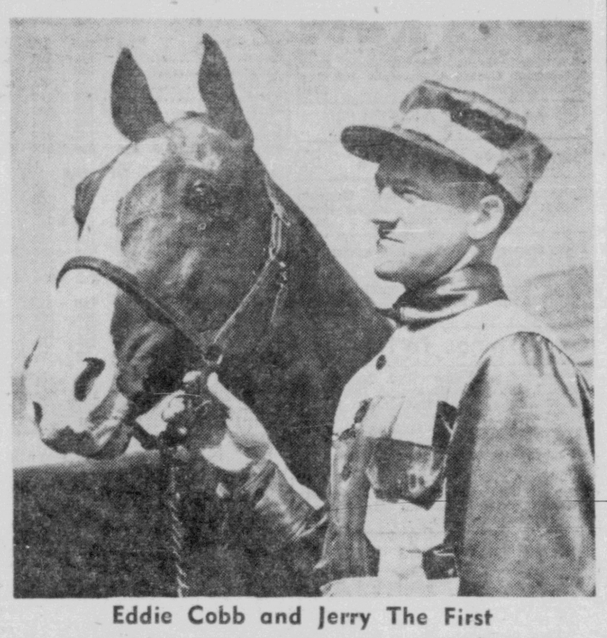

Bruton said it appears the Braves, who have done just about everything but win the pennant since moving from Boston in 1953, "are just about set with the same lineup as last year."

Joe O'Brien Is Tops On Grand Circuit

COLUMBUS — For the third straight year Joe O'Brien of Shafter, Calif., has set the money and race-winning pace on trotting's Grand Circuit, so-called "major league of harness racing."

The U. S. Trotting Assn. reported today that O'Brien earned $242,787 on the Circuit in 1956 while winning 72 races. His margins were substantial over runnerup Billy Haughton of Brookville, N.Y., the nation's overall driving leader, who earned $168,199 and won 45 races.

O'Brien, 39 led a year ago with $219,000 and 58 wins. The money-winning record is still held by Delvin Miller of Meadowlands, Pa., who earned $259,933 in 1950.

O'Brien, who trains and drives for the S. A. Camp Farm, had four horses account for most of his money and victories. They were the trotters Scott Frost (Harness Horse of the Year) and Bond Hanover, and the pacers Diamond Hal and Adios Express.

The top 12 in each category were as follows:

MONEY WINNERS

1. Joe O'Brien	$242,787

Gold-Plated Plea by Giants Fails to Interest Robinson

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Jackie Robinson, standing firm in his decision to quit baseball despite a passionate plea by the New York Giants Wednesday night, said today he planned to submit his letter of voluntary retirement to the proper authorities not later than next Tuesday.

He reiterated to this writer that no amount of money and no amount of pressure could get him to change his mind. As disclosed by The Associated Press Wednesday, Robinson acknowledged he had a dinner parley at the home of Charles (Chub) Feeney, vice president of the Giants, who made a final desperate effort to induce Jackie to play just one more season.

"I did not give Feeney a flat 'no,'" said Robinson, "only because he asked me not to because he realized what my answer would be. He felt if I thought it over for a couple of days, there was the slightest possibility that I would change my mind.

"But I'm sure he knows that the case is hopeless. There is no doubt in my mind that when I give him the answer it will be no."

Robinson at first was reluctant to discuss the nature of the Giants' offer. Informed that the writer had learned the Giants were willing to offer him a one-year contract that would cost them $100,000, Jackie, in his characteristically honest fashion, dropped his evasiveness.

"Yes," he said. "Chub did mention that the club was willing to lay out $100,000. That, of course, would include my purchase price from Brooklyn ($30,000 and a player). It was learned from other sources that the Giants were willing to keep him on the payroll through 1959 even though they promised to give him his unconditional release at the end of the 1957 season.

All-Pro Grid Team Picked For Season

NEW YORK (AP)—The champion New York Giants, Chicago Bears and Detroit Lions today dominated the Associated Press National Football League all-star team, capturing 15 of the 22 berths.

Two players, offensive end Harlon Hill of the Bears and defensive tackle Roosevelt Grier of the Giants, were picked on all 28 ballots. Halfbacks Ollie Matson of Chicago Cardinals and Frank Gifford of the Giants missed unanimous selection by one vote.

The Giants had tackle Rosey Brown besides Gifford, on the attacking team and end Andy Robustelli and safety Emlen Tunnell along with Grier on the defensive squad.

Lions who made the first team were tackle Lou Creekmur and quarterback Bobby Layne on offense and linebacker Joe Schmidt, halfback Jack Christiansen and safety Yale Lary.

The Arizona boxer, although floored in the seventh round, scored his 28th victory in 31 starts here Wednesday night with a split decision over bigger Wayne Bethea in their 10-round, nationally televised bout. Bethea now has a 13-8 record.

Missouri Football Chieftains Named

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Missouri Valley Conference has a new commissioner and the University of Missouri a new football coach.

These were the most important developments as sidelights to the NCAA's 51st annual convention Wednesday.

Shawnee Next, But Lions Are Looking Ahead

When Washington High School's cagers take on Lima Shawnee here Friday night, they'll have their hands full. But, says Coach Herb Russell, it's next week's South Central Ohio League game against Hillsboro that the Blue Lions will be pointing for.

"Hillsboro is our long thought this week," Russell said.

	WON	LOST
Washington	3	1
Circleville	2	1
Wilmington	2	1
Hillsboro	2	2
Greenfield	0	4

Circleville and Wilmington, frontrunners with the Blue Lions, collide Friday at Wilmington, and again Jan. 25 at Circleville. So, one of them is going to be tied with the locals for the league lead next week.

For the Russellmen, then, the Hillsboro battle could be crucial, putting them well out in front or dropping them back in the pack.

OSU Field Goal Accuracy Is High

CHICAGO (AP) — Ohio State, winner of its first two Big Ten games, tops the conference in field goal accuracy, official basketball statistics showed today.

The Buckeyes have hit 57 out of 127 shots for .445. Indiana, also winner of its first two starts, is far down the percentage list with .358 based on 57 baskets out of 159 attempts.

Illinois (1-1) is second on the percentage table with .419, having 70 hits in 167 attempts, the most shots any team has tried. Michigan State (0-2) is next with .415.

Tennessee Coach Gets Top Honors

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bowden Wyatt, personable young coach who led his Tennessee football team to an undefeated season and the Sugar Bowl Game, was honored today as "Coach of the Year" at a luncheon of the American Football Coaches Assn.

Wyatt was picked as coach of the year on a vote of 535 members of the AFCA. He was the 21st coach selected for this honor.

He has been one of the most sought-after coaches at this meeting, where a dozen or so major colleges are looking for new coaches, but he has rejected every offer because he is "at home" in his present spot.

Men's Bowling Tournament To Get under Way Feb. 3

Dates have been set and entries are now being taken for the annual Washington C. H. Men's championship bowling tournament.

The event is to be rolled on the Bowland lanes, CCC Highway, west, on two Sundays, just as it has been in the past. It will start Feb. 3 with the team competition and will come to an end the following Sunday, Feb. 10, with the singles and doubles.

Deadline for entries is Jan. 30. Last year's tournament was the biggest in the eight-year history of the event and indications are that this year's will have even more entries.

* * *

THE ENTRY FEE is $2.50 for each event; for the all-events it is $1. All of the fees are to be returned to the bowlers in the form of awards to the high scorers.

Last year's champions will be back this year to defend their laurels, Christman said.

The team title was won last year by Len's Wine Store with a net score of 3,032; the doubles event was won by Glenn Yerian and Bob Whitaker with a net of 1,294; the singles by Charles Hiney with 692 and the all-events honors were taken by Barney Ellars with a net of 1,878.

Tournament bowling is to use 75 per cent handicaps.

of the New Car Season

Want to take the wheel of the car that's winning raves from Coast to Coast and back again?

Then take the wheel of a 1957 Buick and try the sparkling-est new performance team in all autodom.

Here, with just a judicious touch of foot to treadle, you get response so obediently instant, so liquid smooth, and so full range in "Drive"—that you've never in your life felt anything like it.

Know what else?

Folks like the way this new kind of performance comes dressed in sleek and glamorous styling that's fresher than tomorrow's news.

They like the new ease of handling, the new steadiness of cornering, the way stops are always on the level no matter how quickly you use the brakes.

Fact is, folks like everything about the newest Buick yet—the car that's fast becoming the biggest hit of the new car year—and you will, too. Come on in and try it this week. We'll have the red carpet out for you.

SAFETY REMINDER
In fast-moving traffic on turnpikes, parkways and freeways, keep a good distance from the car in front—and a little more for good measure. That way you, and every driver behind you, get a bigger margin of safety for braking action.
PASS IT ALONG

Farms For Sale 49

GOOD FERTILE FARM

This good fertile farm would be excellent as a grain or stock farm. In good state of cultivation. Has 14 acres of existing wheat to pass with Title, has 25 acres of permanent pasture, ample water supply, (3) three good wells and one good spring, 24 acres of good timber. The fences on this farm are good. This farm has been rotated on five year rotation. There will be 40 acres for corn this coming season, and about 28 acres more or less for hay. This farm consists of 154 acres over all. Offers nice five room house has electric, nice bath, water under pressure, has barn, corn cribs, tool sheds, other outbuildings adequate for farm of this number of acres. This farm is being offered at a sacrifice for limited time, priced at only $137.00 per acre. This farm borders on Fayette and Highland Counties, 13 mile of Washington C. H., six mile of Greenfield in the Leesburg School district. Easy access to school and Church. Shown by appointment.

Business Opportunities 29

WANT IN A NICE PAYING BUSINESS?

This nice going business will show you more net income than a good two hundred (200) acre farm. The business is located in one of Fayette County's better farming communities. No close competition. Situated on three (3) acres of land. Store room is of good structure applicable only for business room 24'x50' and has all modern equipment fixtures to handle fresh meats, vegetables and a general food market. Has exceptionally clean Grocery stock, no dead stock, has C-1 and C-2 carry-out beer licenses. Also good six room modern home, very attractive. Also good five room semi-modern home one floor plan. Many good outbuildings such as garages, utility house etc. Sinclair filling station with three pumps, new cement block building on one acre of land ideal for trailer parking, etc. These buildings are all new to a good state of repair. This is a perfect setup for a man and wife operation and will net you more income than a large farm with much less manuel labor and the cost is not near so great. If you are interested in something to make money with the right kind of environment. Do not fail to see this offering.

Business Opportunities 29

WANT IN A NICE PAYING BUSINESS?

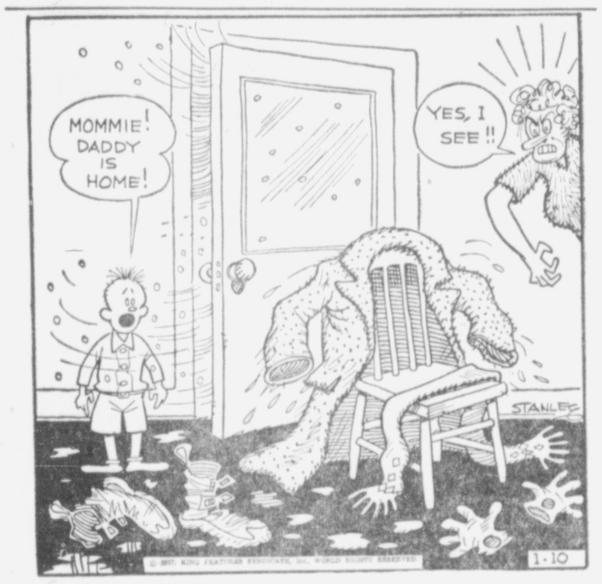

This nice going business will show you more net income than a good two hundred (200) acre farm. The business is located in one of Fayette County's better farming communities. No close competition. Situated on three (3) acres of land. Store room is of good structure applicable only for business room 24'x50' and has all modern equipment fixtures to handle fresh meats, vegetables and a general food market. Has exceptionally clean Grocery stock, no dead stock, has C-1 and C-2 carry-out beer licenses. Also good six room modern home, very attractive. Also good five room semi-modern home one floor plan. Many good outbuildings such as garages, utility house etc. Sinclair filling station with three pumps, new cement block building on one acre of land ideal for trailer parking, etc. These buildings are all new to a good state of repair. This is a perfect setup for a man and wife operation and will net you more income than a large farm with much less manuel labor and the cost is not near so great. If you are interested in something to make money with the right kind of environment. Do not fail to see this offering.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

U A A Q K B J V W B R U A A Q K B Q P Y . J U A T G J J V K Q O K A H K O — K C M U Y C D P G B X .

President Sees Present Need For Wisdom

Eisenhower's State of the Union message today was much shorter than in other years, running only about 4,000 words. In line with a new pattern of providing details of the administration's 1957 legislative program later, Eisenhower in this message listed only a few specific objectives.

In the foreign field, Eisenhower said the United States is "willing to enter any reliable agreement which would reverse the trend toward ever more devastating nuclear weapons."

The President has said substantially that same thing on other occasions, but always has coupled the assertion with the view that prospects of attaining such an agreement with Russia are not bright at this stage.

He said today any such "reliable agreement" should "reciprocally provide against the possibility of surprise attack," and for mutual control of "the outer space missile and satellite development."

This was the first time Eisenhower has mentioned publicly international control against devastating missiles and satellite devices.

In the disarmament field, Eisenhower also said the United States under "reliable agreement" would look forward to "a lower level of armament and armed forces and an easier burden of military expenditures."

The White House and Republican congressional leaders have indicated repeatedly during the last few weeks that there is little prospect for any major tax reduction this year.

The President's specific views on that subject will be set forth in his budget message which is to go to Congress next Wednesday.

On the subject of banking and credit, Eisenhower said Congress should authorize creation of a commission "of able and qualified citizens" to conduct a broad national inquiry "into the nature, performance and adequacy of our financial system, both in terms of its direct service to the whole economy and in terms of its function as the mechanism through which monetary and credit policy takes effect."

Agriculture — He said he is "gratified that the long slide in farm income has been halted and that further improvement is in prospect."

He added that his specific recommendations in that field will be set forth in the budget message.

Alluding to the anti-segregation provision which stymied the program in Congress last year, Eisenhower expressed hope that at this session it can be "enacted on its own merits, uncomplicated by provisions dealing with the complex problems of integration."

In that connection, he urged "people in all sections of the country to approach these problems with calm and reason, with mutual understanding and good will, and in the American tradition of deep respect for the orderly processes of law and justice."

The program was shelved in the Senate, where it was under threat of a filibuster, last year. It had been approved by the House.

The program calls for:

1. Creation of a bipartisan commission to investigate any violation of civil rights and make recommendations.
2. Establishment of a civil rights division in the Justice Department.
3. Enactment of new laws to protect the right to vote.
4. Amendment of existing laws to permit the federal government to seek "preventive relief" from civil courts in civil rights cases.

Conservation—Eisenhower sounded a new call for "the closest kind of cooperation and partnership between municipalities, states and the federal government" in the development of natural resources.

4-H Club Activities

COUNTRY SISTERS

Mrs. Frank Dill, an advisor to the group, talked with members about their projects. Other advisors are Mrs. Richard Rankin and Miss Joyce Lutz.

Outgoing president Carol King presided at the meeting. The outgoing secretary is Betsy Vollette, and the former treasurer Suzanne Torbert.

Hillsboro Makes Plans for 1957 Sesquicentennial

HILLSBORO — This city will observe its sesquicentennial with a celebration about the third week in July.

Organization of the Hillsboro Sesquicentennial Co., which will conduct the affair, was completed at a meeting of civic, social and fraternal organizations this week.

The company has contracted with the John B. Rogers Producing Co., Fostoria, to stage a show observing the anniversary.

Frank A. Collins, owner of an extensive collection of material on Hillsboro's history, was named honorary president of the sesquicentennial company. Dr. W. M. Hoyt will serve as president.

Horatio Wilson, 414 E. Market St., reported to police Thursday morning that three 10 by 12 inch window panes were broken out of his garage door Wednesday night.

Lawrence Gill, 826 E. Paint St., also reported Thursday morning that his son's cream - striped maroon bicycle had been stolen Wednesday night.

Agronomy Panel Eyes Results of Demonstrations

Crop Production Facts and Figures Reviewed Wednesday

Members of the Fayette County Agronomy Committee met Wednesday evening at the Farm Bureau Auditorium to review and summarize results of the various soil, fertilizer and crop demonstrations conducted in the county this year. A total of 26 members were present.

The meeting was opened by the Vice Chairman Leo Fisher, following a motion picture entitled "What's in the Bag". The picture gave a graphic illustration of how commercial fertilizers are prepared—from the securing of the raw ingredients nitrogen, phosphorous and potash, to the time it is placed in the fertilizer sack. The film was furnished by the National Plant Food Institute, Washington, D. C.

County Agent W. W. Montgomery reviewed some of the facts and figures on crop production in the county, covering in some cases the census figures going back as far as 1880. These figures show that within the last five years corn acreage in the county averaged 72,000 acres per year. Corn, wheat, oats and soybeans have shown an increase in average yields per acre.

* * *

SOYBEANS, an important commercial crop since about 1940, have averaged 18,000 acres during the last five years. Soybeans have partly replaced the decrease in the wheat acreage.

The figures used have been a part of the over-all study of the changes in agriculture in the county.

Results of the 19 corn demonstrations were reviewed by Gordon Ryder, Extension agronomist at Ohio State University. Yields on the 19 demonstrations were from 90 bushels per acre to 141 bushels per acre.

The demonstration program concentrated on rates of application of fertilizer, use of fertilizer in the row and plowed down, and the rate of planting.

* * *

IN ADDITION to the corn demonstrations, the agronomy program included wheat demonstrations, hay and pasture demonstrations, weed control demonstration and a hay and pasture tour.

Harold Mark reported on the hybrid yield tests in which 27 different hybrids were compared for yield, moisture and broken stalks. He also had results for a five-year average on 16 different hybrids.

The committee will meet Monday, Feb. 11 to develop the agronomy program for the county for the current year.

Senate Chiefs Expect OK on 'Rights' Laws

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate leaders were reported today to believe that civil rights legislation will be passed at this session of Congress even though they expect a Southern filibuster.

An influential Senate Democrat, unwilling to be quoted by name, said the chances are that a program along the lines advocated by President Eisenhower will be approved "earlier than later."

Eisenhower's program calls for court action to protect voting and other rights, the establishment of a civil rights division in the Justice Department, and a presidential commission to investigate civil rights, Legislation to carry it out has been introduced in both the Senate and the House.

Southern Democrats have been able to block civil rights measures in the past, but there appears to be a more determined effort by both Republicans and Northern Democrats to force action at this session of Congress.

Senators Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Knowland of California, the Senate's Democratic and Republican leaders, joined Wednesday in offering a resolution to permit two thirds of the senators present and voting to halt debate.

Johnson said he had decided to join Knowland as a cosponsor because the resolution appealed to him "as being based upon the middle ground, which is the strongest to stand upon."

New Jerseyite To Head Ohio Road Agency

COLUMBUS (AP) — Gov.-elect C. William O'Neill said today he would appoint Charles M. Noble, 60, of Princeton, N. J., to the $30,000 - a-year post of Ohio highway director.

O'Neill said Noble was chief engineer for the New Jersey Turnpike Authority and served as an engineer on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, on the Pentagon Building in Washington, and for the state of New Jersey.

"Ohio needs modern expressways and multi - lane highways linking our major cities," O'Neill said. "Noble has the experience and engineering knowledge to get the job done."

The governor-elect said he chose Noble after Bertram Talmy, President Eisenhower's appointee to administer the federal highway construction program, named Noble as the best man in the country for the highway directorship.

On his third try, O'Neill said, Noble took the job, saying:

Noble will succeed State Highway Director S. O. Linzell, who receives $12,000 a year.

U. S. Officials Hail Macmillan

New British Premier Regarded as 'Friend'

WASHINGTON (AP) —U. S. officials today welcomed the appointment of Harold Macmillan as new British prime minister. He is regarded as a friend of the United States who will work for improvement in U. S.-British relations.

Macmillan probably will be invite to come to Washington for talks with President Eisenhower early in the year.

Eisenhower had rebuffed reports by former Prime Minister Anthony Eden to visit Washington immediately after the U.S.-British split over Egypt, but high officials said Macmillan would be made welcome any time.

The United States has been pleased with Macmillan's policy of meeting the latest crisis by domestic belt tightening and borrowing abroad rather than by measures which would have cut back Britain's foreign trade and moved away from eventual convertibility of British currency.

* * *

IN FOREIGN affairs Macmillan has hewed to the well established lines of British policy. He has evidently considered close association with the United States as a foundation stone of Britain's world position. He has fought the spread of Communist power.

The favorable reaction to Macmillan's appointment served to underscore the already apparent views of the Eisenhower administration on Eden's removal from the scene.

Authorities here believed Eden's resignation might signal an improvement in U. S.-British relations. These officials said there had been a fundamental loss of confidence here in Eden policies, heightened by the British and French intervention in Egypt.

Bank Chief Quits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Albert C. Crew, 46, of Dayton, Ohio, resigned today as chief of Federal Home Loan Bank operations to become treasurer of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Cincinnati.

Rayburn Shuns Time Limit On Ike's Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) said today he is "definitely" against writing a time limit into President Eisenhower's resolution on the Middle East.

Rayburn's view ran counter to that being expressed by a number of other Congress members of both parties, among them the House Democratic leader. Rep. McCormack (Mass) said he thinks there should certainly be a time limit, but he had no fixed idea what it should be.

Some legislators have suggested that the powers Eisenhower is asking be limited to two years, while others have suggested a proviso which would allow either the House or the Senate to terminate the resolution by majority vote.

But Rayburn said the President already has permanent constitutional authority as Commander-in-Chief to send American armed forces abroad.

Fixing a terminal date on a congressional resolution affirming this authority for the Middle East, he said, could cause future difficulty because the resolution might expire while there are still serious troubles in that area.

Eisenhower did not set any time limit in his proposed resolution, which says the President is authorized to give military and economic help to Middle East nations and use American troops there if necessary against open Communist attack.

Ex-Prosecutor Refused Rehearing

COLUMBUS (AP)—Frank Kearns, former Franklin County prosecutor convicted of embezzling money received for expenses in performing official duties, Wednesday was denied a rehearing by the Ohio Supreme Court.

Kearns asked a rehearing of the unanimous decision Dec. 5 affirming his one-year probation.

$11 Million Fund On Delinquency

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three members of a Senate subcommittee which studied the problem have introduced a bill to provide $11 million to help state and local governments curb juvenile delinquency.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said the bill would authorize $5 million in grants to the states to help them improve state and local delinquency programs; another $5 million in grants to states and non-profit educational institutions to help train specialists in this field, and $1 million to help finance various special projects, including research for the abatement of delinquency.

New Building Due

CHICAGO (AP) — Plans were announced Wednesday for construction of a 39-story office building costing $20 million here. It will be situated just east of the 44-story Board of Trade building, the city's tallest.

Cars Driven By Husband, Wife Collide

CHILLICOTHE— Kenneth Rinehart, 44, Lyndon Route 1, was admitted to Chillicothe Hospital Tuesday with a possible concussion and a scalp laceration received when cars driven by him and his wife, collided head-on on the Upper Twin Road, about three - quarter mile from Bourneville.

The wife, Betty, 36, was arrested for driving left of center. The local state highway patrol post indicated the accident is still under investigation.

Mrs. Rinehart, traveling north, collided with her husband's car in the vicinity of a bridge. He was taken to the hospital in the Smith ambulance from Bainbridge. Mrs. Rinehart was not injured but she went to the hospital, patrolmen said.

In 1902 more than half the motor vehicles in New York state were driven by steam.

President Sees Present Need For Wisdom

Eisenhower's State of the Union message today was much shorter than in other years, running only about 4,000 words. In line with a new pattern of providing details of the administration's 1957 legislative program later, Eisenhower in this message listed only a few specific objectives.

In the foreign field, Eisenhower said the United States is "willing to enter any reliable agreement which would reverse the trend toward ever more devastating nuclear weapons."

The President has said substantially that same thing on other occasions, but always has coupled the assertion with the view that prospects of attaining such an agreement with Russia are not bright at this stage.

He said today any such "reliable agreement" should "reciprocally provide against the possibility of surprise attack," and for mutual control of "the outer space missile and satellite development."

This was the first time Eisenhower has mentioned publicly international control against devastating missiles and satellite devices.

In the disarmament field, Eisenhower also said the United States under "reliable agreement" would look forward to "a lower level of armament and armed forces and an easier burden of military expenditures."

On the domestic front, Eisenhower did not discuss the possibility of any tax cuts.

The White House and Republican congressional leaders have indicated repeatedly during the last few weeks that there is little prospect for any major tax reduction this year.

The President's specific views on that subject will be set forth in his budget message which is to go to Congress next Wednesday.

On the subject of banking and credit, Eisenhower said Congress should authorize creation of a commission "of able and qualified citizens" to conduct a broad national inquiry "into the nature, performance and adequacy of our financial system, both in terms of its direct service to the whole economy and in terms of its function as the mechanism through which monetary and credit policy takes effect."

Agriculture — He said he is "gratified that the long slide in farm income has been halted and that further improvement is in prospect."

He added that his specific recommendations in that field will be set forth in the budget message.

School construction—Eisenhower urged that high priority be given to the administration's program for reducing the shortage of classrooms.

Alluding to the anti-segregation provision which stymied the program in Congress last year, Eisenhower expressed hope that at this session it can be "enacted on its own merits, uncomplicated by provisions dealing with the complex problems of integration."

In that connection, he urged "people in all sections of the country to approach these problems with calm and reason, with mutual understanding and good will, and in the American tradition of deep respect for the orderly processes of law and justice."

Civil rights—Eisenhower again called for enactment of the four-point civil rights program which he sent to Congress last year.

The program was shelved in the Senate, where it was under threat of a filibuster, last year. It had been approved by the House.

The program calls for:

1. Creation of a bipartisan commission to investigate any violation of civil rights and make recommendations.
2. Establishment of a civil rights division in the Justice Department.
3. Enactment of new laws to protect the right to vote.
4. Amendment of existing laws to permit the federal government to seek "preventive relief" from civil courts in civil rights cases.

Conservation—Eisenhower sounded a new call for "the closest kind of cooperation and partnership between municipalities, states and the federal government" in the development of natural resources.

4-H Club Activities

COUNTRY SISTERS

Roll call of the group was answered with a New Year's resolution from each member.

Outgoing president Carol King presided at the meeting. The outgoing secretary is Betsy Vollette, and the former treasurer Suzanne Torbert.

Hillsboro Makes Plans for 1957 Sesquicentennial

HILLSBORO — This city will observe its sesquicentennial with a celebration about the third week in July.

Organization of the Hillsboro Sesquicentennial Co., which will conduct the affair, was completed at a meeting of civic, social and fraternal organizations this week.

The company has contracted with the John B. Rogers Producing Co., Fostoria, to stage a show observing the anniversary.

Frank A. Collins, owner of an extensive collection of material on Hillsboro's history, was named honorary president of the sesquicentennial company. Dr. W. M. Hoyt will serve as president.

Vandalism, Bike Theft Reported to City Police

Horatio Wilson, 414 E. Market St., reported to police Thursday morning that three 10 by 12 inch window panes were broken out of his garage door Wednesday night.

Lawrence Gill, 826 E. Paint St., also reported Thursday morning that his son's cream - striped maroon bicycle had been stolen Wednesday night.

Agronomy Panel Eyes Results of Demonstrations

Crop Production Facts and Figures Reviewed Wednesday

Members of the Fayette County Agronomy Committee met Wednesday evening at the Farm Bureau Auditorium to review and summarize results of the various soil, fertilizer and crop demonstrations conducted in the county this year. A total of 26 members were present.

The meeting was opened by the Vice Chairman Leo Fisher, following a motion picture entitled "What's in the Bag". The picture gave a graphic illustration of how commercial fertilizers are prepared—from the securing of the raw ingredients nitrogen, phosphorous and potash, to the time it is placed in the fertilizer sack. The film was furnished by the National Plant Food Institute, Washington, D. C.

County Agent W. W. Montgomery reviewed some of the facts and figures on crop production in the county, covering in some cases the census figures going back as far as 1880. These figures show that within the last five years corn acreage in the county averaged 72,000 acres per year. Corn, wheat, oats and soybeans have shown an increase in average yields per acre.

* * *

SOYBEANS, an important commercial crop since about 1940, have averaged 18,000 acres during the last five years. Soybeans have partly replaced the decrease in the wheat acreage.

The figures used have been a part of the over-all study of the changes in agriculture in the county.

Results of the 19 corn demonstrations were reviewed by Gordon Ryder, Extension agronomist at Ohio State University. Yields on the 19 demonstrations were from 90 bushels per acre to 141 bushels per acre.

The demonstration program concentrated on rates of application of fertilizer, use of fertilizer in the row and plowed down, and the rate of planting.

* * *

IN ADDITION to the corn demonstrations, the agronomy program included wheat demonstrations, hay and pasture demonstrations, weed control demonstration and a hay and pasture tour.

Harold Mark reported on the hybrid yield tests in which 27 different hybrids were compared for yield, moisture and broken stalks. He also had results for a five-year average on 16 different hybrids.

Senate Chiefs Expect OK on 'Rights' Laws

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate leaders were reported today to believe that civil rights legislation will be passed at this session of Congress even though they expect a Southern filibuster.

An influential Senate Democrat, unwilling to be quoted by name, said the chances are that a program along the lines advocated by President Eisenhower will be approved "earlier than later."

Eisenhower's program calls for court action to protect voting and other rights, the establishment of a civil rights division in the Justice Department, and a presidential commission to investigate civil rights, Legislation to carry it out has been introduced in both the Senate and the House.

Southern Democrats have been able to block civil rights measures in the past, but there appears to be a more determined effort by both Republicans and Northern Democrats to force action at this session of Congress.

Senators Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Knowland of California, the Senate's Democratic and Republican leaders, joined Wednesday in offering a resolution to permit two thirds of the senators present and voting to halt debate.

Johnson said he had decided to join Knowland as a cosponsor because the resolution appealed to him "as being based upon the middle ground, which is the strongest to stand upon."

New Jerseyite To Head Ohio Road Agency

COLUMBUS (AP) — Gov.-elect C. William O'Neill said today he would appoint Charles M. Noble, 60, of Princeton, N. J., to the $30,000 - a-year post of Ohio highway director.

O'Neill said Noble was chief engineer for the New Jersey Turnpike Authority and served as an engineer on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, on the Pentagon Building in Washington, and for the state of New Jersey.

"Ohio needs modern expressways and multi - lane highways linking our major cities," O'Neill said. "Noble has the experience and engineering knowledge to get the job done."

The governor-elect said he chose Noble after Bertram Talmy, President Eisenhower's appointee to administer the federal highway construction program, named Noble as the best man in the country for the highway directorship.

Noble agreed to take the Ohio cabinet post after twice refusing offers of the job, O'Neill said.

On his third try, O'Neill said, Noble took the job, saying:

Noble will succeed State Highway Director S. O. Linzell, who receives $12,000 a year.
